Jigsaw Jamboree

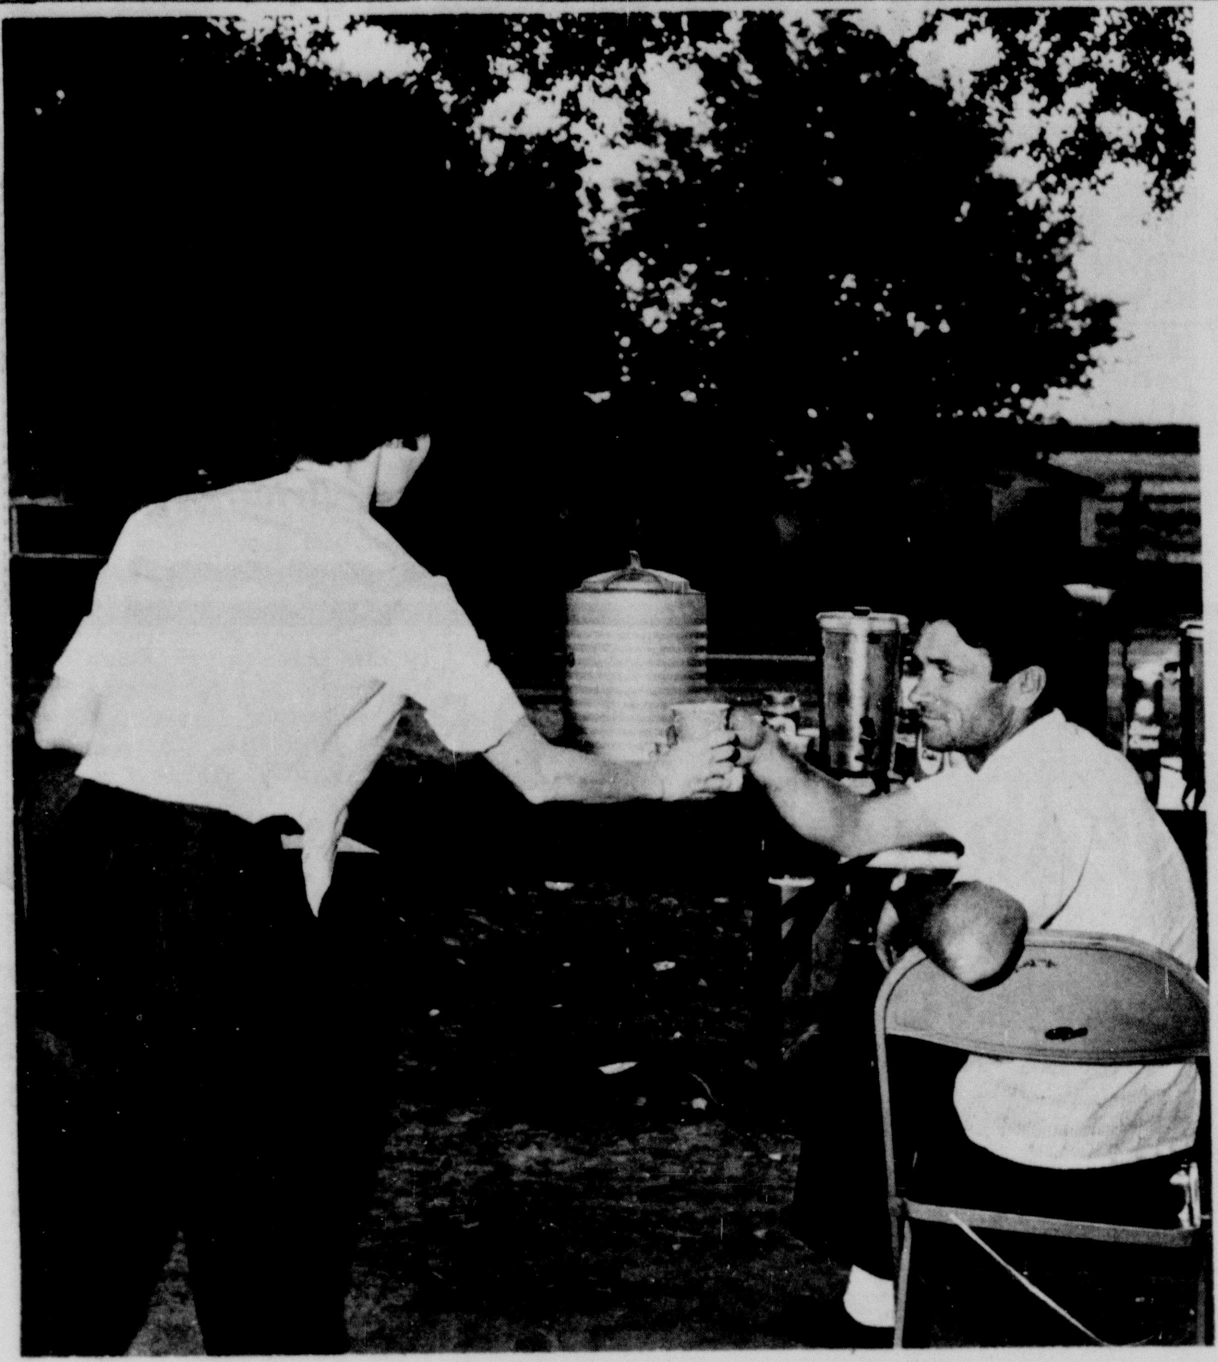
VOL. 70 NO. 23 | CANYON, TEXAS | THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 9, 1965 | 16 PAGES | 2 SECTIONS | TEN CENTS



REST STOP FOR MOTORISTS was provided by the Canyon Junior Chamber of Commerce for 72 hours during the Labor Day week end. Canyon Jaycees and Jaycee-Ettes cooperated on the project keeping the rest stop open "round the clock" to serve free coffee, tea, and Koolaid to travel weary motorists. Mrs. Nick Dodson is pictured serving coffee early Sunday morning to Kenneth Ripka, a truck driver, who was enroute from Phoenix to Oklahoma City. "We hope that our efforts helped to save several lives during the holidays," said Guy Hamblen, Jaycee chairman.

Jigsaw Jamboree Today

Jigsaw Jamboree, sponsored by Canyon Chamber of Commerce, will be held from 10 a.m. until 8 p.m. today.

The city merchants' promotion event, featuring a variety of bargains and prizes, is open to any person who is 18 years old or head of a household. Only one winner per family will be accepted.

Each customer may pick up one puzzle piece at the Chamber of Commerce office, next door to the Olympic Theatre on the north side of the square.

The jigsaw part must then be taken to any of the stores participating in the Jigsaw Jamboree. If it fits the vacancy in the puzzle at any of the stores, the customer is entitled to a prize from that merchant. Each person may try as many participant businesses and as many puzzles as he wishes.

Participating merchants are M.E. Moses, House of Yarn, Cheathams, Canyon Drug, T.A. Black, White Auto, McDonald Shop and Thompson's.

Also taking part are Byrd Pharmacy, Cooper's Market, Jennings Men's Wear, Radio Appliance, Dan's 5th Avenue Store, Bellah Super Market, Warren's and The Pharmacy.

Other participants are Jennings Dress Shop, H.R.'s Greenhouse, Canyon Bowl, Western Auto, Anderson's Appliance, Chadwicks, The Village, Taylor & Sons and Hobby Shop.

"Thundering Sounds" Epic Finishes To SRO Audience

BY LINDA LOVE

The "best kept secret in Texas" leaked out through Pioneer Theatre in Palo Duro Canyon this summer to be heard 'round the world, as some 35,946 persons attended the epic production "Thundering Sounds of the West."

Between June 17 and the final performance September 6, crowds increased steadily, with three "Standing Room Only" audiences reported the final week and a record group of 1514 Sunday, September 5. Week's total attendance was 6518.

Telephones were still ringing Tuesday in the show's parent office of Texas Panhandle Heritage Foundation, as tourists continued to request tickets to the drama which had closed the night before.

"Saturday night (1424 persons attending) we had people lined up six abreast from the theatre to the parking lot by seven o'clock," said Edith Eckhardt, production manager and public relations director. "We had to call the park gate, finally, and tell them to warn spectators there was standing room only, but they came anyway."

Sunday night not only seat and aisle space was filled, but standing room was taken, too. And Palo Duro Canyon, dubbed by Gov. John Connally the best kept secret in Texas, was the star of the show. Heritage Foundation members had achieved their goal of giving the canyon the recognition it deserves.

"It has been the most wonderful discovery," said Mrs. Ples Harper, founder and Foundation president, "to find that the audience is here, that it is interested, and that it will come. That was something we believed in, but we could never know until we put it to the test."

This was the measure of success for the show written by Mrs. Harper and Rosa Cowart. The fundamental goal had been reached, for "the entire area has been able to realize the creation of something outstanding to represent the Panhandle of Texas," said Mrs. Eckhardt.

"One of the most important achievements to me," she continued, "is to have established such a precedent of dignity for the show this first year. It was built for a memorial theater, and the (Foundation) board wanted it to be so used. I have never seen anything like the consideration and dignity of crowds that size; they gave it the dignity we hoped for.

"I think a lot of the credit goes to the cast, who doubled as hosts and hostesses so graciously, and to the local volunteers. They were all so gracious, and were so well received."

Mrs. Eckhardt stressed also the experience of seeing those who had faith in the canyon theatre's potential maintain their pride and interest. "They kept returning throughout the summer to bring more friends and tourists, and it was most

Dorms Full At WTSU

Men's dormitories on the West Texas State University campus are already full, according to Dean of Men T. Paige Carruth, and a waiting list is being prepared.

"We want to urge all approved apartment owners or anyone wishing to be approved by WT to rent rooms to the boys to contact us," he continued.

With total enrollment expected to reach 5,000 this fall, 960 reservations for dormitory housing had been received by September 1.

According to Carruth, there is ample room in campus women's housing. Present housing figures are not expected to increase substantially, he said.

WT athletes arrived on campus August 30 and were fol-

Playwright Visits Palo Duro Theatre

Paul Green, well-known playwright working currently on a script for Pioneer Theatre, was in Canyon last Wednesday to attend a performance of the present amphitheatre production, "Thundering Sounds of the West."

"The show was very good," commented Green. "It will be difficult to match the success that this production has achieved."

Green arrived in Canyon Wednesday evening from St. Augustine, Florida, and Chapel Hill, North Carolina. Green's most recent work opened this summer in St. Augustine.

He conferred Thursday morning from 9-10:30 a.m. with Mr. and Mrs. Ples Harper, Mr. and Mrs. William A. Moore, Erin Wertenberger and other members of Texas Panhandle Heritage Foundation and contributors to the amphitheatre drama.

Green was impressed with the spirit and enthusiasm of the actors.

According to him, the group at the Palo Duro Canyon theatre has "done wonders with the equipment they have. They have used human ingenuity to make the system even more effective."

The current production shows all kinds of wonderful possibilities for the future, Green said. He mentioned the uniqueness of the drama, in a "setting full of all kinds of dramatic potential."

Green explained that during travel in Europe he had seen dramatic use of light and sound, but never accompanied by living actors. The addition of actors

Serendipities To Head Busy Campus Calendar

Serendipity Singers will appear here to highlight an already busy fall activities schedule at West Texas State University this year.

The popular nine-member folk group will headline the Ford Caravan of Music Folk and Jazz Wing Ding, which will appear November 20 in the WT Field House.

New activities calendar, which will be distributed to students during dorm registration, is being filled rapidly with weekday and especially weekend events, including 21 school dances already scheduled.

Annual Howdy Dance will open the new school year Monday night, featuring the music of The Sparkles. It will take place in the Student Union Building. Students begin arriving Sunday, with freshman orientation Monday from 8:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. in the physical education building. Association of Women Students meeting will also be held Monday.

Registration begins Tuesday, when students may sign up for evening classes. An All-Sorority Dinner is scheduled for that evening. Freshmen register Wednesday, and Panhellenic Council will meet that day.

Watermelon Feast and an Outdoor Dance featuring The Tiaras will take place Wednesday, also to be followed Thursday by upperclass registration and various church parties. Students continue to register Fri-

Buff Scrimmage Shows Good Defensive Hustle

Following Saturday's first scrimmage of the fall for West Texas State, it seems apparent that the Buffs' strong suit is defense.

Although the Reds pounded the Whites, 64-12, in a three-hour drill on the rejuvenated turf of Buffalo Bowl, the offense seemed less impressive than the defensive units which picked off six passes among other things.

Senior tackle Butch Walterscheid spearheaded the charges on the number two and three offensive groups which resulted in 80 yards lost by White backs.

Walterscheid, Hereford's 220-pounder, is ably assisted in the front line by Jimmy Campbell (195) of Odessa, Marc Allen (235) from San Antonio and Bobby Duncum (245) from Austin. Campbell is perhaps the outstanding soph on the squad and the only one to have nailed down a starting assignment at the moment.

Backing the line is the surly trio of Dave Gasser (210) from Glassport, Penn., and Burl (215) and Earl (210) Wood from Cabool, Mo. Gasser and the Wood twins combined with the front foursome so effectively that the Whites had only three runs longer than seven yards.

A hot fight is in progress for the defensive secondary positions. Transfer Steve Oakley and letterman Gene Browning are seeking the left corner spot and letterman Tom Krempasky and squadman Jim Young of Muleshoe are having a private war over the right corner. The deep positions are being sought by sophomores Steve Haterius, Don Tardy, and Rick Barrett, and junior squadman Rick Nix. None of the aforementioned eight appears to have any edge, although Nix may be handicapped somewhat by a broken hand which has not, however, inactivated him.

All this is not to say that the offense did not have its moments. Again the passing game was more impressive than the running attack. Spencer "Hank" Washington, 6-4, 200-pound quarterback from Los Angeles had 16 connections in 27 throws for 268 yards and five TD's. His chief target was Roy Armentrout, Azle senior, who nabbed seven for 166 paces and three touchdowns. On the minus side, four of Washington's aerials were picked off by the White secondary.

The Buffs' leading returnee in the rushing department, Don Dennis, did not play because of pulled muscles, but his replacement, slender Ronnie Mankin looked well enough to make Dennis realize the job is not locked up. Mankin scored three touchdowns, kicked four of four extra points from placement and ran for two more PAT's bringing his total to 24 for the day.

Armentrout and Ted Wheeler hold the offensive end positions, Umbarger's Terry Funk (220) and George Allen (250) are the tackles, Percy Green (220) and Vern Kosub (200) are the guards and Bill Uzzolino is the center on the offensive line.

The other first unit backs are James Cowell of Dimmitt at

Eagle Opener Against Winds

BY JOHN LAIR

Canyon's Eagles will open their season Friday night against the Whirlwinds of Floydada.

Game time is 8 o'clock in Whirlwind Stadium at Floydada.

It will be the Eagles' first game under the tutelage of Coach Jim Greenwood.

Floydada opened its season last Friday night with a searing 28 to 8 defeat at the hands of Post.

Coach Greenwood says he was fairly well pleased with Eagle showing in the scrimmage with Littlefield here Saturday night. However, he says his boys had a "mental let down."

Highlight of the scrimmage was an 80-yard touchdown run for Canyon's only score. Littlefield was able to score twice against the Eagles.

Otherwise, the Littlefield-Canyon tussle was a reasonably even game. Eagle passing game left something to be desired.

Saturday night's scrimmage also was rather costly. Gary McAtee, starting end, suffered an eye injury that may keep him on the bench for some time.

McAtee is under treatment this week in St. Anthony's Hospital in Amarillo. McAtee received honorable mention last year as an all-district halfback.

Looking good for the Eagles were Dennis Haley, Tom Lair, Wayne Brewer and Dennis Butler.

Scouts who saw the Post-Floydada game last week say Floydada has a scrappy team. Two Whirlwinds to watch Friday night are Quarterback Bearden and Adams, a halfback.

Bearden is the Whirlwind passer and Adams was the standout ball carrier for Floydada in the Post game.

City School Figures Out

Canyon schools have enrolled 2358 students in elementary, junior high and high school classes, according to Huelyn Laycock, superintendent.

This total number of boys and girls enrolled by Tuesday evening compares with 2153 students in the Canyon system last year at this time, he added.

New Gene Howe Elementary School has shown an enrollment of 262 students, said Laycock, and Rex Reeves Elementary reported a total of 977 boys and girls.

Canyon Junior High has accumulated an enrollment so far of 633 pupils.

Canyon High School's latest figures show 486 students, with 185 sophomores, 154 juniors and 147 seniors.

These are not final totals, Laycock commented, as school officials expect more enrollees in the coming school days.

COVERING FUMBLES

by Dean Mitch Jones

Parents hurt children whom they love above all else by mistaking luxuries for necessities—thereby giving them "stones" when their hearts are asking for "bread".

Amendment Vote Light

In an extremely light vote Tuesday, Randall County approved an additional eight state senators 1,096 to 190.

Precinct four had not reported by Wednesday noon.

Less than 10 percent of the county's total voting strength went to the polls.

Across the state, voters turned thumbs down on the proposal which would have provided 39 state senators instead of the present 31.

Canyon Girl Given ABC Scholarship

A $700 scholarship was awarded Bonnie Jo Whittington by the National Association of American Business Clubs Friday in Amarillo.

Miss Whittington's mother, Mrs. J.C. Whittington, accepted the scholarship for her daughter. Miss Whittington left last week for physical therapy school at the University of Texas in Galveston, where she will be a senior.

The award was presented at a meeting of the Amarillo and Palo Duro chapters of American Business Clubs.

The scholarship is given by the Scholarship committee of AMBUCS "to assist in achieving a degree in a field of therapy which will permit words to be spoken and heard, or steps to be taken by those less fortunate than ourselves.

"Having confidence this trust is well founded, we ask only that it be repaid through scholastic achievement and devoted service."

The nationwide project was originally begun in Amarillo. Some 60 scholarships are given each year to physical therapists, occupational therapists and speech therapists.

Miss Whittington has been majoring in biology at West Texas State University and holds membership in Beta Beta Beta, national biology honorary society. She has also been a laboratory assistant.

Marijuana Charges Examined

Randall County grand jury Wednesday was considering the case of a South Amarillo couple charged with possession of marijuana.

In the meantime, Mr. and Mrs. James R. Morgan had been released from Randall County jail after posting bonds of $7500 each.

Morgan is 52 years old. He is a piano tuner by trade, according to police. She is identified by police as Ethyl Gladys Morgan but officers say her acquaintences often call her Beverly.

Cliff Longest, Randall County deputy sheriff, assisted Amarillo police in investigation of the case. Longest said marijuana plants were found growing in the yard at the Morgan home in Amarillo.

Some bulk marijuana also was found, he reported.

The case was brought to at-

Parents Preview CHS Band

Parents of Canyon band members will be treated to a special preview of the 1965 fall marching band following a meeting at 7:30 p.m. tonight.

The gathering, to be held at the highschool, is the first official fall meeting of Canyon Band Parents Club. All band parents are invited and urged to attend, added Mrs. Roland Johnson, secretary.

During the business session the club will be completely organized for the coming year, she commented. The band preview will take place after the meeting.

FROM THE CANYON RIM

by Troy Martin

J. Dewey Horton, a globe-trotting Baptist preacher from Amarillo, showed some slides this week at my house on his recent trip to Brazil.

He hails Brazil as the land of the future.

That sprawling country, larger than the United States, has literally millions of acres of arable, virgin lands. Dewey says the topsoil there is sometimes more than 15 feet deep.

The land, he declares, will grow anything. My vision conjured up thousands of head of hereford and angus cattle providing protein for a people that, up to now, has been almost literally on starvation.

Brazil has teeming cities on the coast but inland there are wide expanses of virgin soil and jungle still roamed by wild Indians.

Dewey crisscrossed the country by plane. Indian villages are accessible only by air.

He vows that Brazil holds the destiny of this hemisphere.

US News & World Report says the American repairman is a vanishing breed.

In spite of 19 percent increase in population from 1950 to 1960, there were in 1960 seven percent fewer carpenters, four percent fewer painters, only nine percent more electricians and only eleven percent more plumbers.

How do things look for the future? In 1960 there were 44 percent fewer apprentices learning carpentry, 33 percent fewer learning plumbing and an increase of only three percent in those learning electrical trades.

During the same decade there was a 51 percent decline in the number of tailors and the number of shoe repairmen was down 36 percent.

The turnout on the amendment vote Tuesday was a disgrace.

A few thousand people who cared enough made the decision on the number of senators the Texas legislature will have. They decided to keep the senate at 31 members.

Considering the apathy that pervades this country, it is amazing to me that we have remained free this long. The amendment vote was a good example.

I noticed a story in The Fort Worth Star-Telegram on the Grady Hazlewood Appreciation Banquet.

The stories about the occasion in the state press is not the least of the well-deserved tribute being paid to the senator.

Next week The Canyon News plans to run something a little special honoring the senator.

It is a shame that the county no longer has a dairy princess. I can think of nothing more appropriate than to have a special tribute offered at the banquet by Randall County dairymen to Randall County Dairyman Grady Hazlewood.

I strongly suggest that such a special tribute be offered anyway by the last reigning Randall County Dairy Princess--- Miss Janet Gerald.

There's the idea if you dairymen think anything of it contact H.R. Fulton, Jr., who is in charge of the Appreciation Day program.

DWI Charges Against Two

Two men were arraigned this week on charges of driving while intoxicated.

They are identified as Ronald Porter Osborne, 22 years old, Amarillo; and Wallace C. Bartlett, 39, Lubbock.

Both entered pleas of not guilty before County Judge Lloyd King. Bond was set at $500 in each case.

It Tickles Us

(An Editorial)

Henry Fowler of the Treasury and George W. Ball of State Department departed last week for a swing around European capitols and never have the names of two diplomats been more appropriate.

They're going to discuss the international monetary system. What with inflation, the gold drain and debasement of our coins with non-precious metal, some folks would say that our money is indeed a "foul ball." Hence, "Fowler and Ball" talking money for us seems entirely in character.

Jaycees Set Horse Show

Annual quarterhorse show is among the projects scheduled by the Canyon Junior Chamber of Commerce for the month of September.

The show will be held on Sunday, September 19 at the rodeo arena, east of town. The event will begin at 1 p.m.

Both halter and performance classes will be held along with youth activities for those under 18. Entry fee for halter classes is $7.50, $10 for performance classes, $20 for roping and $2.50 for youth competition.

Curley Daugherty, Olton, will serve as judge for the event and ribbons and trophies will be awarded to all class winners.

Jim Montgomery, chairman, stressed that the event is open to the public with no admission charge. All members of the Jaycees will work during the project including committee members Jerry Swaringen, Jim Scott, and Bob Carter.

Canyon Jaycee-Ettes will assist with registration and will operate a concession stand at the horse show.

FB Meet Tonight

Randall County Farm Bureau board of directors will meet at 8 o'clock tonight in the Farm Bureau building.

Presiding will be R.B. Gist, Jr., president.

Mr. and Mrs. Werner Henscheid were in Muenster, near Gainseville, during the Labor Day holidays to visit with his father, Bill Henscheid.

within the striking scenes has played a great part in making it so unique, he continued.

Green praised the finale in particular, noting the final highlighting of the canyon, a scene which Green said "speaks with musical terminology."

He was instrumental in choosing the site for the Pioneer Theatre, constructed this past year, and he explained that consideration of the special sound and light system helped decide the location.

Green attributes the enthusiasm and interest of all connected with the summer production to the fact that "the drama belongs to them. It is out of their own lives and hearts and environment."

Rather than apply for legislative funds in creating the amphitheatre, Green said, its creators preferred to "pay their own way."

"They've done very well in building this on their own," admitted Green.

DOUBLE GUNN BROS. STAMPS TUESDAY AT BELLAH'S

MRS. JOHN N. MESSENGER

Wimberley-Messenger Nuptials Confirmed

Nuptial vows for Miss Anita Faye Wimberley, daughter of Mrs. Olene Wimberley, and John N. Messenger, son of Mrs. Beulah Messenger, were read Tuesday, August 28 at the First Baptist Church of Canyon.

Rev. Strauss Atkinson, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Canyon, officiated at the double ring ceremonies.

Traditional wedding music was presented at the organ by Mrs. Meade Humphries with Bill Knighton and Jack Boggs forming a duet to sing "Love Divine, All Love Excelling" by Stainer. The bride sang a solo "Sheep May Safely Graze" by Bach.

Bouquets of white gladioli backed with two larger fern pompons with votif lights on both sides decorated the altar where the wedding was performed.

The bride's sister, Mrs. Don Gaston, was bridesmatron and Mrs. Kenneth Hart, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. They wore identical full length light pink dresses with soft A-line skirts accented with a pink bow in front and a dress train cascading from the back neckline. Their headpieces were pearl tiaras and other accessories were white. Each carried a single pink rose.

NEUROSIS AND PSYCHOSIS WHAT DO THEY MEAN?

Neurosis is defined as a mild emotional disorder in which you might experience feelings of anxiety, make compulsive acts and usually have physical complaints without specific evidence of disease. Psychosis is any major, severe form of mental illness.

Most everybody has a neurosis occasionally and sometimes a mild tranquilizer is prescribed to help ease the stress. With a psychosis, treatment calls for strong medication in many cases. There are hundreds of drugs available for mild or severe mental problems. We carry them all in our prescription stocks.

Kickoff Party For Girl Scouts

A kickoff party for Junior Girl Scouts of Troop 14 will be held Tuesday, September 14th, in Fellowship Hall of the First Methodist Church.

The social event will begin at 7 p.m. and scouts and their parents are urged to attend. John Brazzil, county agent, will lead the group in folk dances.

Troop 14 is designed to facilitate fifth grade girls according to Mrs. Troy Martin, troop leader. Other patrol leaders for the group are Mrs. J.C. Bellah, Mrs. Truett Hull, Mrs. H.R. Fulton, Jr., Mrs. W.A. Patton and Mrs. Billy Hill.

All four patrols of the troop will meet on Tuesday afternoons with the first regular meeting set for September 21 at the First Baptist Church. The patrols will hold their meetings at the church until work on the new Girl Scout Building is completed.

Included among activities for the first meeting will be the beginning of work toward the Order of the Arrow by working on the sewing badge.

"Thundering.

gratifying to see the potential materialized."

Acoustics were proven time and again to be amazing, to the extent that workers in the box office found they had to whisper at times to avoid being heard in the theatre. The special sound and lighting system was versatile and striking under skilled operation of Joe Batson, John Hatchel and Bill Rhew, and protection measures were highly successful.

Construction of the amphitheatre proved to be as safe as it was artistic, and spectators in wheelchairs could be driven easily to the theatre entrance and moved safely down the low steps of the gentle slope.

They watched also as widespread interest sprang up. Triangles awarded each night to visitors from farthest away were competed for vigorously by guests from around the world, and newspapers in New York and California praised the drama.

From a hectic beginning in which technicians had to use six tape recorders simultaneously, the production moved through the season highlighted by various special presentations.

An old-fashioned fireworks display and celebration was written into the Independence Day weekend shows; the cast was joined by Glenn Dowlen, Jr., baritone with New York City Opera Company, for several weeks; and it expanded again with the addition of 80 members of a WT highschool speech workshop one weekend.

The little town which served as set for the Golden Spread epic grew to include several buildings and extra features, and finally achieved its own unique identity August 1.

On that date special guest C.V. Woolley, second mayor of Canyon, cut a ribbon to open the new town of Juniper Junction, and the frontier settlement came into its own.

The season was not without unwanted excitement, however, as when the set was blown down almost completely during a wind storm just before the final week of production. Rapid repairs had the village back in shape by the next performance.

As the theatre company accumulated traditions, buildings and praise, they gathered something of a menagerie as well.

One of the more audience-shy members of the animal troupe was an extremely large lizard. Rather than miss seeing the show due to crowds, however, the colorful bright green lizard with white and black rings on its neck chose to attend the hour-long rehearsals each evening at 6:30. Appearing from his home in the rocks beneath the stage, he would perch in front to review the early show, then scurry home again.

A personality familiar to many park visitors is a deer named Bill. Bill, it seems, has never been told he's a deer and, like Yogi Bear, never misses a picnic.

"He adores ice cream cones, sandwiches and milk shakes," said Mrs. Eckhardt. "During construction of the theatre he appeared every day at lunch to join the workmen in their noon meal, and they named him 'The Superintendent.' Bill came up one day to check the cement job on one of the side stages, and his hoof prints are still there."

Bill made quite a hit with tourists recently when he visited the concession stand during intermission one night.

A fish pond constructed to turn a drainage problem into an attraction produced much affection among cast members for the fish. A loaf of bread was kept for their nourishment. One night the group ran out of bread, and the fish were treated that night to a hot dog--with no mustard. Who got the meat is beside the point, but the pond occupants munched happily on a thick hot dog bun.

Most stage-conscious member of the cast was one of the mules in the team which drew the covered wagon through the canyon and onstage.

According to cast members, he looked the audience over carefully after his entrance and was not above stealing a few scenes. Both mules seemed to enjoy performing and reported enthusiastically to the stables every evening to be harnessed.

Now, however, the animal characters will either go back to their normal lives or join the ranks of unemployed extras, for soon the sets will be struck and machinery stored for the coming year.

The summer was happily reviewed by cast and crew as they enjoyed a final cast party Monday night at the First Presbyterian Church.

The young performers and technicians looked over four tablefuls of black and white and colored pictures of the production, while eating heartily the dinner provided by Ples Harper. They saw colored slides of the show, also.

Cast members were presented large simulated bank notes in the theatre's motif, to be drawn on Texas Panhandle Heritage Foundation "For Services Rendered in Original Company of Pioneer Amphitheatre 'Thundering Sounds of the West' June 17-September 6, 1965." The notes were signed by Mrs. Harper; William A. and Margaret E. Moore, directors; Erin Wertenberger, technical director; and Mrs. Eckhardt.

"The manner in which these young people have sustained the show is a miracle," declared Mrs. Harper.

"It's been wonderful to see them grow during the summer, as they reacted to the responsibilities and tensions of the show," Mrs. Eckhardt elaborated.

Cast and crew carried on a variety of activities aside from the show, with many of the speech and music students taking part in Branding Iron Theatre productions at West Texas State University, where Mr. and Mrs. Moore were busy as well.

Stage manager Gary Wyatt and his wife, a principal worker in the box office, commuted 250 miles to and from Dalhart in the final weeks of the show. Wyatt teaches school there. Throughout the season "storekeeper" Gary Tydings commuted from his Channel 10 position in Amarillo, Connie Kent from Hereford and guitarist Tommy Stewart from Tulia. Martin McDonald had to complete programming at KCAN radio before leaving for the theatre.

But for many the hard work is yet to come, for inventory must be taken of all articles and properties, machinery must be taken apart and cleaned thoroughly, and all tools, antique objects and costumes stored carefully.

Equipment must be stored under conditions which will provide an even temperature throughout the winter, and where it may be operated periodically. Sound technician John Hatchel will be in charge of these activities.

In the Foundation office, meanwhile, information and publicity must be sent out immediately to various travel publications, whose deadlines are mostly in September and October.

For nearly all concerned, the success of the summer has brought accelerated work for the off-season.

coming season is an appearance by the Paris Chamber Orchestra, featuring Adolf Scherbaum as trumpet soloist, February 25. At least two more concerts will be included in the series, as well as reciprocal arrangements made annually with Community Concerts of such cities as Plainview, Clovis and Lubbock.

Campaign week for the group will be September 20-25, after which time no additional memberships will be accepted from those living in this area during the campaign.

The week will be begun with a workers' dinner September 20. A Paris theme will be used, and guest of honor will be Mrs. Peggy Blackburn, representative and booking agent with Columbia Artists Representatives of New York.

tention of Amarillo police Wednesday of last week.

Someone, who has remained unidentified, took a limb from a curious plant to the Bushland agricultural experiment station west of Amarillo. A staff member there thought the plant was marijuana and took the cutting to the Amarillo police station.

Records show that the case came to attention of police at 6:16 o'clock the evening of Sept. 1. The couple was arrested the following afternoon.

District Attorney George Dowlen said a total of nine cases were under consideration by the grand jury Wednesday of this week.

MRS. H.W. BURRUS shares a Cherry Cobbler recipe with our readers this week. The recipe is one that "our boys were raised on" commented Mrs. Burrus. Mrs. Burrus is shown placing the cobbler in the oven at her home, 2508 10th Avenue.

Homemaker Shares Cherry Cobbler

BY LORENA MILLER

Homemaker of the week, Mrs. H.W. Burrus, shares a Cherry Cobbler recipe with our readers.

Mrs. Burrus, known among friends as Ruby, was raised some 7 miles north of Canyon. She is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Andy Costley.

Relatives of Mrs. Burrus living in the area include a brother, Glenn Costley, north of Canyon, and a sister, Gladys Haines, of Canyon. She also has a sister, Ann Slagle, who is a school teacher in Tucson, Arizona.

Ruby and her husband, Harley, were married February 20, 1929 in Canyon and lived on a farm north of Canyon for some 34 years before moving to their new home at 2508 10th Avenue last year.

Harley is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Burrus. Among his brothers and sisters are Bradley Burrus, R.A. Burrus and Tony Burrus, all of Canyon; Hershel Burrus and Glenn Burrus, both of Hereford; Veta Simpson of Tulia; Beatrice Hager of Panhandle; and Mrs. Ray Metcalf and Mrs. Ed Bourn, both of Canyon.

Burrus is a farmer and raises some cattle. The family still operates dryland acreage north of Canyon since moving to town.

"We keep our horses at the farm too," related Mrs. Burrus. The Burruses were charter members of the Randall County Sheriff's Posse and still participate in outings and parades with the group.

"Sometimes on week ends we go out to the farm and spend an afternoon riding the horses," commented Mrs. Burrus.

Among her hobbies, Mrs. Burrus likes swimming and "learned during her second childhood" according to her husband.

The family has a backyard garden filled with summer peas, tomatoes, okra and other vegetables. Mrs. Burrus spends much of her free time making preserves and filling the deep freeze.

Both are members of the First Baptist Church where she participates in the Mary Lambert Circle.

The Burruses also enjoy fishing trips together and with friends. Among their favorite fishing spots are Corpus Christi in the Gulf of Mexico and Guymas, Mexico where they fished last spring.

"We bring home the ones that don't get away," laughed Mrs. Burrus. They place the fish in the deep freeze for later use.

The Burruses have two sons, Dennis of Durant, Oklahoma and Ray of Lipscomb. They also have two grandchildren, Rennie and Devin, at Lipscomb.

Speaking of her recipe Mrs. Burrus commented, "The boys were raised on it and the recipe doesn't necessarily require cherries. The boys liked rhubarb, peaches and other fruits in the cobbler."

Easily made, the top crust raises due to the baking powder and is very tender. It is good served either warm or cold according to Mrs. Burrus. Her recipe follows:

CHERRY COBBLER
1 No. 2 can cherries
1 1/2 cups sugar
1 cup flour
1 tsp. baking powder
1 stick oleo
1/4 cup cream

Put cherries in greased baking dish and heat to boiling point. Add 1 1/4 cups sugar and 1 Tbsp. flour, stirring until thick.

Make crust with remaining flour, sugar and baking powder, oleo and cream enough to moisten dough to roll out. Roll out and put on top of cherry mixture adding rest of cream.

Bake at 375 degrees for 30 minutes or until browned on top. Serve warm or cold.

Children of the couple will host the reception during the afternoon hours of 2-4 p.m. with all friends and relatives of the couple invited to attend. No written invitations will be sent.

The couple's children include Mrs. Mary Jo Robinson of Gruver, Don Avent of Claude, Robert Avent and Mrs. Martha Taylor, both of Amarillo, Mrs. Juanita Allred of Wildorado, and George Avent of Dalhart. The couple also has 16 grandchildren and 4 great-grandchildren.

Pre-school Retreat For BSU Students

Pre-school retreat for the Baptist Student Union at West Texas State University will be held September 14-15 at the Activities Building of the Amarillo Baptist Assembly Grounds.

Chet Reames of Dallas will be guest speaker for the two day meet.

Tuesday's rally will begin at 7:30 p.m. with local summer missionaries reporting on their summer experiences and showing slides of the areas they serves.

Among the youth missionaries will be two Canyon men, Robert Henry and Leonard Harguess, who served with small churches in Oregon during the summer.

Other youth missionaries reporting will be Don Aikin, a WTSU senior from Fort Worth, who spent the summer in Puerto Rico as the first youth missionary there. Also reporting will be W.C. Duke, WTSU senior from Midland, and Donita Allred, WTSU senior from Hereford. Both Miss Allred and Duke served in Torreon, Mexico during the summer Bible school programs and other church work.

James Dunn, BSU director, noted that the two day session will be concluded at noon on Wednesday.

Jaycee-Ettes Help Red Cross

Canyon Jaycee-Ettes met last Thursday night at the home of Mrs. Gerry King to sew on American Red Cross ditty bags.

Sewing at the meeting were Mesdames Guy Hamblen, Meade Michael, Nick Dodson, Jim Scott, and chairman, Gerry King.

Other members of the club will also work on the project at their homes.

Canyon Jaycee-Ettes will meet Monday, September 13, at the home of Mrs. Gerry King for a business session planning a variety of projects for the coming year.

All members are urged to attend the meeting and bring completed "ditty" bags which the group has been making for the local Red Cross office.

MinorDamage In Fence Fire

Minor damage was reported Friday from a backyard fence fire at the home of Paul N. Mann.

Canyon Fire Department Captain Joe Rice and Fireman Alfred Daniels were called at 2:45 p.m. and put out the fire.

McAtee Has Eye Injury

Gary McAtee received injuries to the left eye in a practice football game between the Canyon Eagles and Littlefield Wildcats last Saturday night in Canyon.

McAtee, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd McAtee, is a senior end of the Eagle football squad. The injury resulted from either a toe or heel of another players shoe entering the left eye according to McAtee's father.

Hospitalized at St. Anthony's Hospital, Amarillo, McAtee is reported to be improving.

The high school senior had received a cut above the right eye in football practice several days earlier. The cut required several stitches to close.

Arthur Haley To Begin Fire Protection Study

BY LINDA LOVE

Fire engines to fire engineering becomes a big, technical step, Art Haley is discovering as he prepares to study Fire Protection Technology at the Technical Institute of Oklahoma State University.

Haley began orientation for the two-year institute program Wednesday. Classes start Monday.

Everything from English composition and chemistry to Fire Codes and Standards and insurance courses will be covered before he receives an Associate Degree of Technology.

"I used to think there couldn't be much to running in and squirting some water on a fire," Haley said with a grin. "Now I know there's a little more to consider than that. There are a lot of technical aspects."

OSU is known throughout the nation, Haley added, as one of the top schools in such a field.

Training at the institute qualifies the student for a variety of positions, including fire insurance adjustment and fire marshall work at various government levels.

"I'd like to work with a State Board of Insurance," Haley mentioned. "Another job I'd be qualified for that I would like is industrial fire safety engineer with a large oil company. The companies have their own fire departments and facilities, and the safety engineer is responsible for general fire regulations and inspections."

Haley will receive not only instruction but a great deal of experience during his schooling at OSU. He will live in quarters on the second floor of the fire station, taking part in regular station routine.

"The city trains us during the first semester," he explained. "Most of the actual fire protection courses are taught on the third floor of the station. If we're living in the station, we may occasionally be called from classrooms to go to a fire."

"Those of us who'll be living there will be expected to respond to the apparatus room, or the ground floor of the station, when the bell rings. Then if they should need extra men they let us know.

"Two companies are assigned each night, from 6 p.m. to 6 a.m., and we'll probably be included every fourth night."

During second semester and for the rest of the two-year period the students at the fire station will ride the fire trucks.

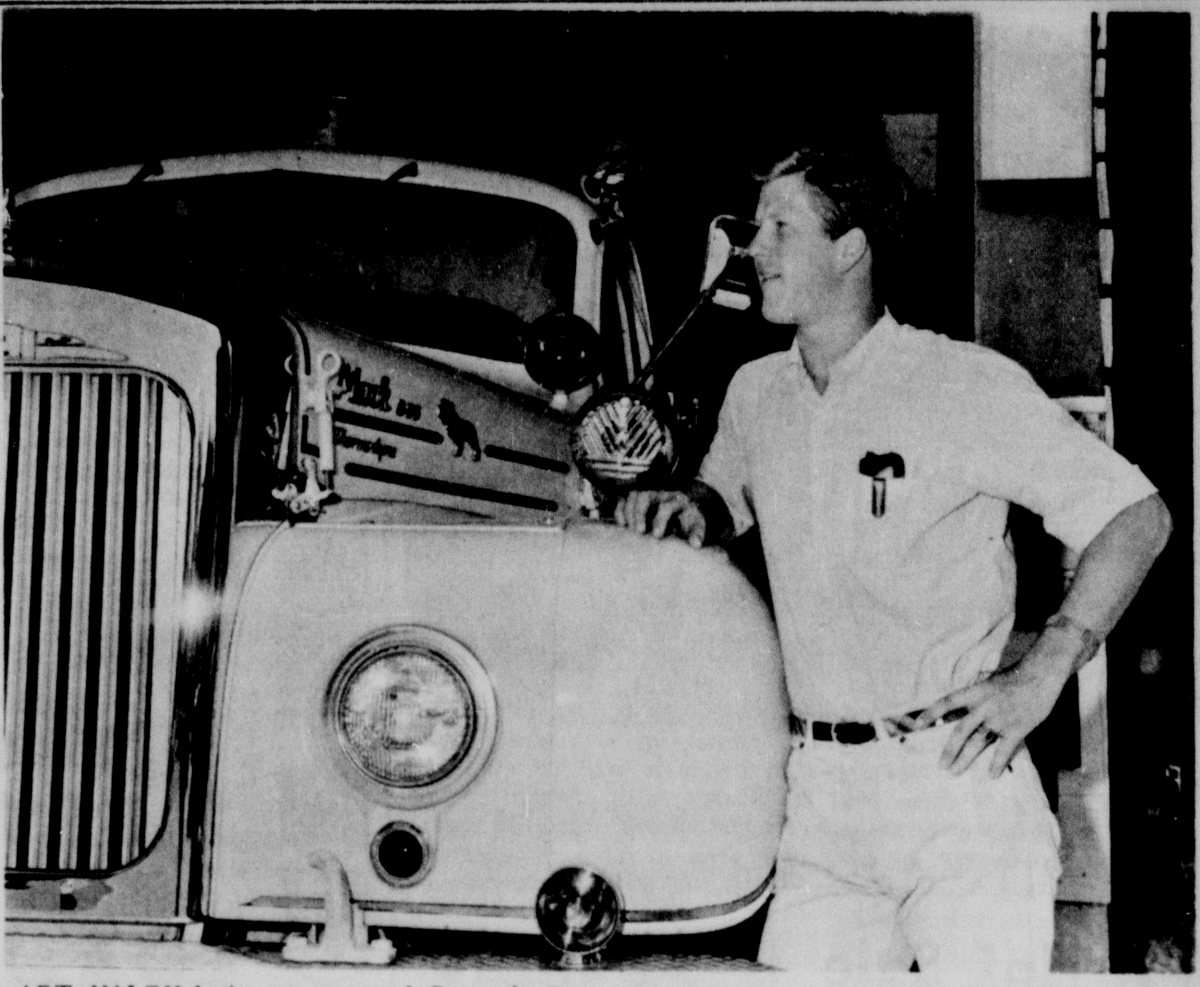
"This way we'll be around it all the time," Haley said. "We'll go out and actually get the experience. Even in jobs such as insurance investigation this will be helpful, knowing the situations that can arise and being able to look at a structure and judge what kind of fire it was."

Haley graduated from Canyon High School in 1964 and received National Guard training. During his highschool career he maintained an interest in math and science.

This summer he worked with the Canyon Fire Department for five weeks.

"We went over every bit of the equipment, doing everything that needed to be done to get it in the best shape possible," Haley commented.

"This summer's the only time I've really worked there, but I've had some interest in it for several years. I used to like to go with Dad to the station. So they're used to having me hanging around," he laughed.



ART HALEY looks over one of Canyon's fire engines a type of vehicle he'll be getting better acquainted with during his two-year Fire Protection training at Oklahoma State University.

Visiting with Mrs. T.W. Henderson last Friday afternoon were Mrs. Velma Brooks of Oklahoma City, and Mr. and Mrs. Nelson of Gould, Oklahoma.

Jay Dunbar of Memphis visited with the V.E. Harpers recently. Dunbar was enroute to the University of Texas where he will study this fall.

Visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Jack Ellinwood recently was her brother's family, Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Lewis and children, Myra, Nathan, and Myrna, of Enid, Okla.

Regent To Attend Sigma Nu Weekend

Sigma Nu Regent Dick Vaughan of Austin will be special guest this week end at the annual Sigma Nu Weekend, to be held by the fraternity chapter of West Texas State University.

Vaughan, a land developer in Austin, will be honored with an open house Sunday afternoon for all area Sigma Nu's. The event will take place from 3-5 p.m. at the Hunsley Hills Clubhouse, said chapter advisor Vaughn Vandergriff.

Sigma Nu Weekend begins Friday night with a business meeting in the alumni lodge.

Saturday morning formal initiation will be held at 10 a.m. in Joseph A. Hill Memorial Chapel for eight men pledged last spring. Gary Fletcher of Canyon will be initiated, as will Joe Sutton, Lubbock; Lee Shafer, Colorado City; Mac Crawford, Spearman; Steve Ragsdale, Odessa; James Woodall, Dumas; Ernest Hughes, Chillicothe; and Jack Goodner, Amarillo.

The chapter will be guests of the alumni at a noon luncheon at the E.L. Barnett ranch west of Canyon, and a "fraternity night" party will be held Saturday night.

Sunday morning fraternity active members and alumni will attend services at the First Presbyterian Church and, following the reception that afternoon for Regent Vaughan, an informal buffet will be held Sunday evening for all Sigma Nu alumni of the area.

Troop 66 At Sonics Game

Some 20 Canyon Boy Scouts of Troop 66 attended "kids night" at the Amarillo Sonics ballgame last Friday evening.

The local scouts were completing their summer activity schedule according to Lee Roy Moreland, scoutmaster. Moreland said that the fall schedule includes a pack meeting for September 23 at the First Christian Church of Canyon.

Parents assisting with the ball game outing were Scoutmaster and Mrs. Lee Roy Moreland, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Forehand, Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Allen, Mr. and Mrs. Gene McGlasson, and Mr. and Mrs. Chuck Allen.

Yard Tour For Garden Club

Canyon Garden Club will have a garden tour tonight, Thursday, to be followed by a business session at the D.J. Kievit home, east of Canyon.

Club members will gather at 6:30 p.m. at the M.B. Measamer home for the beginning of the garden tour. Other yards on the agenda include the Ruth Foster home, T.V. Crounse home, and Paul Sumner home.

Mrs. E. T. Cummings will serve as co-hostess for the business session and fellowship at the Kievit home.

Boy Falls In Canyons

Ronnie Ford of 3110 A Paramount, Amarillo, was injured in a fall at Devil's Slide in Palo Duro Canyon Monday afternoon.

Ford is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Ford, formerly of Canyon.

Apparently Ford lost his footing while attempting to climb the slide and catapulted end over end some three quarters of the distance down the slide.

Ford was brought to Neblett Hospital and Clinic by LaGrone Ambulance for treatment. He was later transferred to an Amarillo hospital.

Get Acquainted Social For Frosh

A get-acquainted party for new freshmen at West Texas State University will be held Sunday afternoon at the First Christian Church of Canyon.

The social affair, featuring watermelon and sandwiches, will begin at 4:30 p.m. The occasion will be an opportunity for freshmen of the Disciples of Christ, Presbyterian, and Christian churches to become acquainted with upper classmen.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Beerwinkle announce the September 5 birth of a daughter, Shelli Donise.

The baby weighed 7 pounds, 1 ounce on arrival at Neblett Hospital and Clinic in Canyon.

Maternal grandparents of the infant are Mr. and Mrs. Shirley Nickols of Pampa. Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. R.H. Beerwinkle of Temple.

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Golden have returned from a vacation trip to Ute Park where they went fishing and camped out. Before returning to Canyon the family visited in Taos and Red River, New Mexico.

Survey Cards Are Delivered

Postmaster Marion Higdon announced today that Rural Mail Carriers will begin distributing 1965 Acreage Survey Cards to patrons on their routes about September 14.

The Post Office Department assists U.S.D.A. in making this survey each year. These reports, directly from farmers, are the basis for official estimates for Texas acreage of all crops harvested in 1965.

Higdon urges each patron receiving a card to fill it out and return it to his mail box. Rural mail carriers working on this project are W.E. "Windy" Miller, Route One, and O.B. Redman, Route Two.

The Hays County

CITIZEN

Vol. 62, No. 23 Kyle, Hays County, Texas September 8, 1965

Council agrees

ONE WAY ACCESS ROADS

In a called meeting last Thursday morning at 11:00, the San Marcos City Council voted to change the feeder roads on IS 35 between Loop 82 on the north and Redbud Lane on the South from a two-way traffic pattern to one-way.

The change had been requested by the Highway Department last month and the date agreed upon was January 1 of next year. However, a fatal accident which authorities say would not have happened if the feeder roads had been one way caused the Highway Department to move the date up to October 1.

There is one difference between the Highway Department's request and the resolution finally passed by the Council. The area designated to be one way by the Highway people was between Loop 82 and Highway 123 (Seguin Highway-Guadalupe St.). After the resolution was presented to the Council by the Mayor, Councilman Pool suggested that the one-way pattern should be extended south of 123 because of the heavy traffic which passes the intersection. He related that only the day before, while traveling on the section in question, the car he was travelling in had to come to a complete stop to avoid an accident with another car apparently unaware of the two-way traffic pattern.

Mr. Fuller suggested that the two-way pattern could be extended to RedBud Lane, where there is an overpass, if the council so desired.

Mr. Damon said some of the factors to be taken into consideration were the heavy northbound traffic at lunchtime from Widelite and Westwood, and the fact that inadequate markers sometimes caused confusion and hesitation on the lateral roads by travelers. He acknowledged that people going north on the west feeder road below Guadalupe St. would be subject to a hazard when the portion above Guadalupe is changed to one-way southbound. He also mentioned that there would be objections from businesses on that stretch of feeder road if it is made one-way.

Councilman Tuttle observed that there would be objections from someone, regardless of what the Council decided.

Both Mayor Serur and Mr. Damon questioned whether the Council had the authority to pass an ordinance extending the one-way pattern beyond the area requested by the Highway Department.

Councilman Pool suggested that a phone call be made to Mr. Bluestein to clarify the situation.

Mr. Fuller made the call and reported back to the Council that Mr. Bluestein had said he would leave it to the Council's discretion. According to Fuller, Mr. Bluestein said the highway department had not included the extra stretch in their original request because of Widelite and Westwood, but he did appreciate the extra safety factors involved and the Highway Department would alter its plans to fit the Council's decision.

Thereupon Mr. Pool moved adoption of the resolution with alterations showing the southern boundary of the one-way pattern

Balcones S&L plans course

The Board of Directors of the proposed Balcones Savings and Loan Association will meet Wednesday night to decide a course of action to take following last week's refusal by the State Savings and Loan Commissioner to give the green light to the establishment of a second association in San Marcos.

The application was opposed by the First Federal Savings and Loan Association and by similar organizations in Seguin and New Braunfels.

The board can either decide to drop their proposal for the time being or it can take the matter to court.

Grand Jury report due this week

The September session of the Hays County Grand Jury is expected to complete their hearings of cases brought before it Tuesday, then inspect the jail and confer with County Auditor Bryan Baldridge before adjourning.

Serving on the all male jury were Sydney Hall, of Driftwood, foreman; and Alonzo Hordge Sr., Claudio Flores Sr., Ted Hoch, Clarence King, and Lem Y. Belote of San Marcos; Blas Tenorio, Bobby Barrera and Adolph Hill of Kyle; Rev. Sherman Irvin and E.C. White of Buda; and J. W. Wilson of Dripping Springs.

Members of the Jury Commission were Alva Hayden of Dripping Springs, Bruce Ferguson of Buda and Alfonso Aranda, H.D. Stockton and Mrs. Duane Berry of San Marcos.

A complete report of the Grand Jury's findings will be printed in next week's Citizen.

The Frosh are a'comin

Orientation, registration begin

SAN MARCOS--A busy fall semester at Southwest Texas State will be kicked off this weekend when hundreds of beginning freshmen arrive on campus.

Arriving three days before their upperclassmen counterparts, the freshmen will begin their orientation period at the San Marcos college almost as soon as they put down their suitcases.

A reception in the Student Center will welcome freshmen and their families between 2 and 5 p.m. Sunday, followed by a student life assembly for new students at 7 p.m.

Orientation--in the form of required meetings, guidance and speech performance testing, campus tours, and the President's Reception for freshmen--will occupy both Monday and Tuesday.

Along with the arrival of upperclassmen and transfers Wednesday, will come the start of freshmen registration. The actual registration will begin at 1 p.m. and end at 4 p.m.

Thursday, freshmen register from 8 to 11:30 a.m. and upperclassmen from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. As the upperclassmen begin the enrollment process, freshmen will be taking survival orientation. A get-acquainted party for new students is scheduled to climax the day from 7 to 10 p.m.

Friday, upperclassmen will register from 8 a.m. until 4 p.m. as freshmen continue their survival orientation.

Registration for Saturday only classes will be held Saturday, Sept. 18, ending the formal enrollment period.

Students will get a brief rest during the weekend, and have the chance to view the college's first football game. In their season opener, the Bobcats will meet the Texas Lutheran College Bulldogs in Seguin at 7:30 p.m.

Classes at Southwest Texas begin Monday, Sept. 20.

Crook appointed

The long expected appointment of Dr. Bill Crook as deputy director of the Midwestern Office of Economic Opportunity was made last weekend by President Lyndon Johnson.

Dr. Crook resigned last week as SMA head. He has been working as an advisor at the OEO office for several months.

Yarborough day postponed

The Appreciation Dinner for United States Senator Ralph Yarborough, originally scheduled for Sept. 11 in San Marcos, has been postponed because of the press of congressional legislation in Washington and because the date would conflict with a dinner the same week for State Senator Franklin Spears in San Antonio.

The Southwest Texas Young Democrats Club, sponsor of the dinner, plans to reschedule the dinner for some later date.

Hays votes for 39 Senators

By a narrow margin Hays County voters put their stamp of approval on increasing the size of the state senate to 39 members. The 285 for, 249 against total was a better turnout than had been expected but disappointed supporters of the larger size senate who had counted on overshelming approval in rural counties.

The results, with for 39 senators listed first and against a change from the present 31 member senate listed last are as follows: Blanco Star, 7-7; Kyle, 33-15; Wimberley, 16-23; County Barn, 12-41; Fire Station, 18-13; Niederwald, 0-11; City Hall, 43-33; Courthouse, 7-1; Driftwood, 9-9; Absentee, 3-2; Library, 60-31; Uhland, 9-5; Dripping Springs, 15-19; Buda, 22-18; and Henley, 8-6.

One-way for safety contd from p. 1 to be RedBud Lane instead of Highway 123. Mr. Tuttle seconded and the vote was recorded Damon, Pool and Tuttle -"aye", Froh and Whittenberg - absent.

In other action the city considered bids on a 1965 half-ton pickup truck and accepted the low bid of $1,524.34 from Jack Hughes Motors.

On motion of Councilman Damon and second by Councilman Tuttle, the Council voted to take immediate action to determine the future use of the "present" municipal airport and notify Mr. Lowman and Mr. Beecroft of that action. Mayor Serur directed Mr. Fuller to take care of the matter. He had previously reported that he had asked Mr. Fuller and the City Attorney to determine what would take place legally out there, remarking that he was sure the city doesn't want to keep any property that it has no right to.

Mayor Serur suggested that the city write a letter of thanks to all the government officials who helped the city obtain the airport, and he commended and thanked Mr. Fuller for his splended job.

Finally, in response to a question, the Council by common consent expressed the future policy of the city regarding publication of legal notices to be that they would be published in both local newspapers. With regard to public events involving the city, the council said all news media should be notified.

Texans up insurance $3.5 millions

Texas families ended 1964 with a record $39,421,000,000 of life insurance in force, after increasing their protection by $3,597,000,000 during the year, according to the Institute of Life Insurance. It was the biggest dollar increase in the state's history.

This 10.0 percent rise in Texas' life insurance compared with 9.5 percent for the nation as a whole.

Among the 50 states, Texas ranked 6th last year in total life insurance in force, and 5th in estimated population. (While population is an important factor in life insurance trends, life insurance protection throughout the United States has been growing much faster than population).

Blake T. Newton, Jr., president of the Institute, said that, although population growth and economic factors vary from state to state, last year's surge in life insurance throughout the nation reflects:

- The strength of the American economy. Despite some pockets of hardship, there were important increases in national production, employment and income, so that families needed more protection and could afford to buy more.
- To cut in Federal income taxes, which probably had a psychological effect as well as providing extra funds for life insurance.
- The growing numbers of young people getting married and starting families.
- Greater public awareness of the need for life insurance, and its vital role in building financial security for families.

Texas families had the biggest 1964 gain in individual protection under ordinary policies, although their group life insurance also rose substantially.

They had $23,451,000,000 of ordinary life insurance in force at year-end, an increase of $2,167,000,000 over 1963. Their group life insurance climbed to $11,140,000,000, an increase of $1,144,000,000. They also had $2,848,000,000 of credit life insurance (up $333,000,000 from 1963) and $1,982,000,000 of industrial life insurance (down $47,000,000).

Texas families owned 14,943,000 life insurance policies at the end of 1964, an increase of 758,000 during the year. The total included 4,747,000 ordinary policies (up 111,000); 2,500,000 group certificates (up 348,000); 3,515,000 credit certificates (up 472,000) and 4,181,000 industrial policies (down 173,000).

says Bannister

No logjam in LPA

There is no logjam in the Urban Renewal Program, says Jim Tom Banister of the LPA, the local unit administering the Urban Renewal Program.

The fact that in the areas designated as the "River Project" homeowners could not improve their property was the result of an Iterim City Ordinance passed by the City Council in December of 1962. Urban Renewal has never made such a rule and does not have the authority to make such a rule, he explained.

Contacted by phone, the San Marcos City Manager, B. R. Fuller, said he did not recall the specific ordinance in question, but it was his understanding that it was the intent of the Council, at the time the citizens approved the Urban Renewal Project, to preserve the status quo of the market value of property in the River area without putting undue hardship on the householders. Provisions were made, he said, so that necessary maintenance and additions to property could be made, and to his certain knowledge such improvements have been allowed.

Disagreements may have come up, he continued, between individuals and the agent in charge of issuing building permits regarding what was a necessary improvement, but in that case the agent's decision could have been appealed.

As it turns out, the Ordinance referred to by Mr. Banister required ALL building permits to be approved by the City Planning Commission until such time as a comprehensive zoning ordinance was legally adopted by the city. Inasmuch as a Zoning Ordinance has been adopted, it would seem that the Interim Ordinance is no longer applicable, and a further search of city records will be required to determine the legal status of River Project property owners with regard to selling or improving their property.

Concerning prices offered for property in areas designated for future Urban Renewal projects, Mr. Banister said that the LPA offers what is prescribed by law that it offer, i.e. market value, but that obviously no property can be bought until the Urban Renewal project is approved by Washington, and the Survey and Planning phase of the program is completed.

If this seems confusing, in light of the fact that the Urban Renewal Agency is at present working on the Chataqua Hills project, it should be remembered that the Chataqua Hills project and the rest of the Urban Renewal program in San Marcos are two separate projects, and Chataqua Hills has no bearing on any other Urban Renewal program here.

The status of the rest of the program is still in suspense as far as the Urban Renewal office here knows. Although the Workable Program has been approved in Washington, that is only a part of the whole application. The application for a Planning Grant has not yet been approved and no funds for any Urban Renewal project, except Chataqua Hills, have been released to San Marcos.

4th Army hires 17

Seventeen civil service applicants have been hired at Fourth U.S. Army installations under the highly competitive civilian career management trainee program, and more are needed.

Their employment follows a recent announcement of Lt. Gen. Robert W. Colglazier Jr., Fourth Army commander, that Fourth Army plans to hire a minimum of 50 career trainees per year who will prepare themselves for management responsibilities.

"The program," says Donald C. Layman, Fourth Army civilian personnel director, "is particularly advantageous for young people with college degrees who desire a career in the government service. Those accepted are provided planned training and development in their chosen career fields, and offered reasonably rapid advancement opportunities."

Major career fields in the trainee program are comptroller, supply, procurement, safety, education, civilian personnel administration and engineering.

To be considered for this program an individual must have attained an eligibility rating in the Federal Service Entrance Examination given by the Dallas U.S. Civil Service regional office and must sign a mobility agreement for assignment to any Fourth Army installation. Names of aspirants are certified by the Dallas office to Fourth Army for consideration.

Those interested in qualifying for the program can obtain additional information at the nearest Fourth Army installation personnel office. Offices are located at Fort Sill, Okla.; Fort Polk, La.; and Fort Bliss, Fort Hood, Fort Wolters and Fort Sam Houston in Texas.

John Tower Reports

As you know, the Congress voted a few months ago to increase Social Security benefits by a seven percent cost-of-living factor. I fully supported this cost-of-living benefit increase.

I am not pleased that continued unwise federal fiscal policies have forced the price of goods and food into a continuing upward spiral but I did not feel that we could any longer expect Social Security recipients to bear the brunt of the recent inflation.

The seven percent increase was made effective as of January 1 of this year, so Social Security beneficiaries probably will be receiving sometime this month a supplemental check for their increased benefits due from January through September. Thereafter the seven percent increase will be reflected in each monthly check.

Some other key amendments which we added to the Social Security law this session will be beneficial for thousands of Texans; here is a list of those amendments:

Benefits May Be Paid to Students up to Age 22. If you are eligible for Social Security benefits as the unmarried son or daughter of a person receiving old-age or disability insurance benefits or a person who has died, you may receive benefits, if you are continuing as a full-time student, until you reach age 22.

Benefits for Widows at Age 60: If you are the widow of an insured worker, beginning with September, 1965, you may start receiving benefits as early as age 60 if you decide to accept a reduced monthly amount.

Change in Coverage for Farmers. If you are a self-employed farmer and your gross earnings from farming in a year after 1965 are under $2,400, you may report two-thirds of your gross earnings, instead of your net earnings, for Social Security purposes.

The Amount of Social Security Credit Required for People 72 and over to Qualify for Benefits Is Reduced. If you are 72 or over and have not been able to qualify for Social Security benefits because you (or your spouse) did not work long enough under Social Security, you may now be eligible for payments up to $35 per month.

If You Work After You Apply for Benefits. If you continue to work after you apply for benefits but earn no more than $1,500 in a year, beginning with January, 1966, there will be no deduction from your Social Security payments because of your work.

Coeds limber lovely legs

SAN MARCOS--Two groups of attractive Southwest Texas State coeds arrived on campus Tuesday afternoon, and began immediately to limber up their shapely legs.

The coeds are candidates for the Southwest Texas Strutters and Bobkittens--the San Marcos College's widely acclaimed precision drill unit and majorette corps--and they are back to school early in preliminary training for final tryouts set for this weekend.

316 tryouts for SWT band

By the time members of the Bobcat band's playing unit arrive Thursday, 316 candidates for spots in the musical organization will be on campus, according to the group's director Maurice Callahan.

There will be little time for practice for the three units before their first performance. The band's season premiere is scheduled for Saturday, Sept. 18, at the Bobcat-Texas Lutheran College football game in Seguin.

In addition to its performances at Southwest Texas' football games this season, the band will perform during the nationally televised American Professional League Houston Oiler-Buffalo, New York football game in Houston Dec. 5.

lakes, and harbors are protected from siltation as well as runoff lowered and floods prevented. The farmer improves his land and increases water holding ability, breaks up plowpans with deep rooted legumes, and the winter cover crops are also a benefit to all types of native wildlife species.

Seeding rates for these winter cover crops are as follows: Hubam Clover alone-15# per acre; with small grain-8-10# per acre. Annual yellow sweet clover-15-18# per acre; with small grain 10# per acre. Vetch -10-20# per acre. Winterpeas-25-30# per acre, and Israel sweetclover-15# per acre.

Winter cover crops such as the above should be planted on well prepared, firm seedbeds. Be sure to inoculate seed with the proper inoculant. Often skim milk can be used instead of water to give better results when applying inoculant to the seed. To improve seed production on all legumes they should be properly fertilized through use of phosphates and be brought in for the pollination at time of bloom.

Earth moving practices such as terraces and waterways are the major conservation practices other than covercrop preparations.

John W. Hopson of San Marcos and Raymond Howe of Buda are constructing parallel type terraces which eliminate point rows. Howe's terraces empty into grass waterways of coastal Bermuda and Hopsen's terraces empty into Medio bluestem waterways.

Malcom Flemming of Redwood is constructing parallel terraces with K.R. bluestem and coastal Bermuda grass waterways the recipient of the runoff water.

Bobby Alexander of Kyle is completing a parallel terrace system with terraces emptying into a coastal Bermuda grass waterway.

Terraces break up the slope in the fields that are constantly cropped and open to soil erosion. They prevent the formation of ugly, uncrossable gulleys. They prevent floods and siltation downstream. Now is the time to do this all important conservation job while crops are out of the fields. Consult your S.C.S. technician and conservation contractor. Each field offers different problems but most can be parallel terraced if waterways are located properly through a grid survey and prior planning. Remember soil must be kept in its place not only for today but for the countless tomorrows.

Sit In Trials set for Sept.

Trials for the 24 white Texans charged with unlawful assembly in a Huntsville cafe in July have been set for Sept. 14 in Walker County Court.

Four Hays County men are among those to be tried. Representing the group will be a Houston law firm, headed by prominent attorney Chris Dixie.

A Cornell University student, Mark Klein, 21, arrested at the same time pled guilty last week to similar charges and paid a $300 fine. He was represented by a court-appointed lawyer from Huntsville.

Testifying against the New York student was Abe Dabaghi, owner of the Cafe Raven where the incident occurred, and Texas Ranger John Hoyt of Houston.

THAT'S WIMBERLEY

by JIM GARNER

UNDER THE BRIDGE

If you read this column long enough, you're going to get the impression that I think Wimberley is a wonderful place, and I do, but there are a few improvements that, in my opinion, are desirable and one of these is a public park either on the Blanco or Cypress Creek.

Creek or river frontage is, of course, choice real estate and just about every foot of it is privately owned. The Wimberley visitor who is here for a day's tour of local points of interest or passing through and pauses for a brief visit and has hot, tired, aching feet and would dearly love to slip off his shoes and cool his feet in our spring-fed creek or river has a hard time fighting his way through the POSTED, PRIVATE, KEEP OUT, NO TRESPASSING signs to the water. It's true that there are some pleasant camping sites in some of our most scenic areas but they are operated as commercial enterprises and do not cater to the need I am describing. Certainly I don't wish to propose that Wimberley should develop a park that would be in competition with these enterprises. But it does seem to me that some sort of small public park with access to one of our streams and perhaps a few picnic tables is a project most worthy of the consideration of our Chamber of Commerce.

As it now is, the only place I can think of to send our frustrated visiting waders is under the bridge on Ranch Road 12 over the Blanco, and I can't take much community pride in that.

THE LONG VIEW

I liked the Judge Will Burnett issue of the Citizen, and I think I would have liked the Judge. Shortly after we moved to Wimberley, some old friends in Hays County came by and urged us to make every effort to get acquainted with Judge Burnett. They described the Judge in terms of great admiration and affection as one of the strongest and most interesting characters in the County. But the days slipped by and I never met him. Now it is too late. He is gone and I am sorry and feel a sense of loss. I doubt that I would have agreed with him on everything, but after reading last week's Citizen, I feel that he and I would have agreed to disagree on those points.

I was pleased this past spring when the little campaign to have the famous figure removed from the Hays County Jail aborted, and it was good to hear then about Judge Burnett's staunch defense of it in an earlier, all-out effort. I've laughed at some of the salty quotes I've heard attributed to him. The Judge apparently was a worthy opponent, articulate and resourceful. And I enjoyed reading about some of the Judge's political campaigns and maneuverings, especially his championing Mrs. Frankie Randolph who is described politely in some State Democratic circles as controversial. She's another interesting person I have never met, but some of my friends know her very well. She rates a place in Texas Political Annals if for no other reason that her famous statement following the fizzle of one of her attempts to lead a dissident group into a rump convention. When asked afterwards what happened, Mrs. Randolph reportedly replied; "Well, you can't rump if you don't have anyone to rump with!"

The Citizen termed the Judge Hays County's Iconoclast. In a society that sometimes seems to cherish conformity as the sublime virtue, we need more iconoclasts and the passing of even one of them is a sore loss. Fortunately, here in Wimberley, in addition to cypress trees and spring water and long views, we've still got a few iconoclasts. The cypress trees and the spring water are probably neglible components in the development of an iconoclast, but the "long view" is well nigh indispensable. I'd say Judge Burnett had it.

CORAL MENU

The other evening just before the light, tantalizing shower, my wife and daughter were taking a walk around the block from our house at Eagle Rock while I watched Huntley and Brinkley. When they returned from their walk, my wife announced with a note of pride that she had killed a large coral snake up the road from the house, and we went out again to see the snake. The snake was a coral snake--red on yellow --and a large one, at least two feet long. It was rather mangled on the head end, and when I bent down for a closer inspection, I could see the tail of a smaller snake protruding from the larger snake's body cavity, so I cautiously pulled it out. And guess what it was. Another coral snake, about a foot long, and partially digested. So, if you're wondering what coral snakes eat, I can testify to one item on their diet--other coral snakes!

SERVICE WITH A SMILE

Have you seen the beautiful new flag that waves so proudly above the Wimberley Post Office? The old one had seen so much service that it was difficult to see it at all. Its faded stars and stripes were scarcely discernible against a bright summer sky. There's a lot of rural mail deliveries in the Wimberley area, but for those of us who live in "town," getting the mail means going to the post office and I, for one, always enjoy it. Wimberley is a friendly place, and you seldom walk across the Square without meeting a friend who will stop to exchange news and wish you well. But it's just about impossible to go in the post office and pick up your mail without receiving a friendly greeting from Postmaster John Buckner or one of his staff. Can you recall ever going into the post office without a personal greeting from John or Mrs. Oldham or Mrs. Young. And now, with the bright new flag, the Wimberley Post Office is as cheerful on the outside as it is on the inside.

RANCH ROAD 2325

Did you ever try to find Ranch Road 2325 on the State Highway Map. If you know where to look, it is there, but it is not numbered. Our alert Chamber of Commerce President Herrick Arnold wrote a letter to State Highway Engineer D.C. Greer the other day and asked why. The reply said that the number had been omitted from previous editions of the map simply because there wasn't room for it, but also stated that the number -- RR2325 -- was scheduled to appear on the 1966 edition of the map.

All of us like to boast about the size of Texas, but it must be a real problem for our State Highway Department cartographers to include all the vast State highway and road network on the official highway map. Our excellent system of Farm and Ranch Roads can often cut miles off a cross-country drive, but unless you know where they are, you'll have a hard time finding them on the map because some of them do not appear at all--with or without numbers.

MARKET CLOSED

If you didn't get up to Wimberley last Saturday, you'll have to wait until next June for another Market Day on the Square. This was my first experience with this enterprise, but from my somewhat prejudiced position as Chairman of the Market Day Committee of our Chamber of Commerce, I'd say our 1965 Market Day Season was a whopping success. It brought lots of strangers to Wimberley who returned home as friends of Wimberley, and once a month all summer long, it turned our Square into one of the most delightful, spontaneous festivals you can ever imagine. On behalf of my committee and the Chamber, my thanks to all of you who helped make Wimberley Market Days the most fun ever.

SEAN O'CASEY

This week, I'd like to close the column with some recommended reading in the current issue of the "Atlantic" magazine. I've subscribed to and read this magazine for years and sometimes it seems to me that they publish more than their share of dull stuff, but occasionally they come up with something that makes my investment in time and money pay huge dividends. Such a piece is the one in this month's issue by the Irish Playwright Sean O'Casey who died last September. If you have any interest in the theater, you'll enjoy this even more, but I agree completely with the editorial note on this piece which describes it as a "vigorous affirmation that life is worth living," so I recommend it to you all.

Here in these hills on a pleasant September morning, I find it difficult to disagree with Mr. O'Casey's philosophy.

But then, that's Wimberley!

Half-day school is scheduled

At a special meeting Tuesday night, the San Marcos school board voted to assign Travis and Crockett students to half-day schedules the first few weeks of school until Crockett school is completed.

Letters will be sent to all students of these two schools in-room assignments, and school bus stops. Travis students will go to school at the regular time each morning and will get out about 1:15 p.m. Crockett students ' classes will begin at 12:30, but buses will pick up students about 11 a.m. Lunch will be served to Crockett students from 11:30 to 12:15. They will be returned to bus stop areas at approximately 5:15.

The Board was taken on a tour of the high school's new facilities at Tuesday's meeting and they learned that, except for some furniture for the Library, everything will be in readiness for the students when school opens September 13.

Ninety enroll for school at Wimberley

Ninety students enrolled last Saturday for the 1965-66 school term at Wimberley School. P.H. Bowen, Wimberley School Principal, said that he expected that the complete enrollment figure this year would be 100 or more.

Eighteen school bus drivers from Hays County attended the driver clinic in Wimberley School last Friday evening.

Mrs. Rose Harwell will assist Mrs. Gold in the Wimberley School lunchroom this year.

Range War continues

contd from p.4

The situation was more or less quiet until the Labor Day weekend. Then reports began coming in that boat operators had been seen chasing divers. This reporter interviewed Mr. Gerry Thorpe, an engineer with a Ft. worth aircraft company. Mr. Thorpe said his family arrived in San Marcos Saturday morning had begun diving that day and had had no trouble. On Sunday morning, when he and his son reached the point where they enter the lake, some girls on the bank said that just a few minutes previously a boat had chased some boys up the channel, (slough).

He and his son entered the water, observed that the boats were going much farther down the lake than they had on his previous trip here. He and his son waited until the boats were out of the south end, he continued, then he and his son started swimthen he and his son started swimming. They were snorkeling, he said, and always right at the surface of the water.

He said that when there were no boats coming in their direction he and his son went over to the main diving hole. After they had been diving a while they saw a boat coming in their direction and they started moving away. At the time he first saw the boat coming, Mr. Thorpe states that to the best of his knowledge he was 200 yards away from the boat. They started swimming away, he said, because he was aware of the 200 yard rule and tried to abide by it. However, since his son is only seven years old he could not swim as fast as the boat could travel. Since the boat kept coming the distance was reduced to less tna 200 yards. Eventually, he went on, the boat passed by them and went on to the south end of the lake. He sent his son into shore and he remained in the shallow area roughly opposite the mouth of the slough. The boat described a semi-circle around him as it went back to the north end of the lake.

The next day, he said, three men in a mowing boat came out to where he was. He said he again tried to keep his distance from them, but they pulled up alongside him. They asked, he said, if he didn't know he was breaking a state law getting closer than 200 yards to a boat. Mr. Thorpe said he replied that he was aware of the law, but the boat kept coming towards him, he did not approach the boat.

Mr. Thorpe said they replied something to the effect of "Well, you just stay there and we'll see about it." Their manner seemed to him to be threatening, he said.

Mr. Thorpe said he is a member of a club with about 100 members, all of whom come down here to dive. He said, and his motel hostess verified, that practically every thime he comes he brings his family and friends and they stay two or three days.

He emphasized that he wished to have no quarrel with the Aqua rena and regretted that the divers could not have a good relationship with them.

Interviews with other divers revealed that they are unanimous in regarding Spring Lake as the best place in Texas to dive, and that they have high hopes that a diving area can be marked off so that there will be no conflict with boats.

Interviews also revealed that all divers who use Mr. Brod's service are warned of the law and advised of the safe diving area, but that lately the boats have altered their courses to a considerable degree, and the divers have no way of knowing where the boats will go.

Perhaps the most unfortunate part of the situation at present has to do with divers who come here for the first time and are unaware of the state law. (Since 400 state laws just went into effect, it is obviously not possible to know everyone of them.) If these new divers go straight to the lake without first going by Mr. Brod's shop they have no way of knowing that they are supposed to stay in one end of the lake. Someone from the Aquarena has to row out and tell them. This reporter and tow other San Marcos residents observed just such a situation on Monday afternoon.

If there were signs up on the lake stating the city's official wishes with regard to it, it would save Aquarena the trouble of rowing out two or three times a weekend, it would save the divers a great deal of embarrasment, and it would save the city a very ugly black-eye public-relations-wise.

Mosquito Fighters search for yellow fever carriers

Dr. B. M. Primer, director of the San Marcos-Hays County Health Department, has announced that a crew of inspectors is knocking on the doors of San Marcos residents for the purpose of searching for the yellow fever and dengue fever (Aedes aegypti) mosquito.

The program is a joint effort with the San Marcos-Hays County Health Department, Texas State Department of Health, and U.S. Public Health Service to eradicate the Aedes aegypti mosquito.

Dr. Primer emphasized that the inspectors will be carrying a Texas Aedes aegypti Eradication Program identification card, and the inspectors will request the householders permission to inspect the premises for the Aedes aegypti mosquitoes. Should the householders be away from home at the time the inspector calls, no inspection will be made, but an effort will be made to arrange for the inspection at a later date.

All residents are urged to cooperate with the inspectors in carrying through the inspection. There is no charge to the householder.

Dr. Primer stated that the Aedes aegypti larvae are found in artificial water containers such as tin cans, discarded pans, flower pots, old automobile tires, bird baths, and other types of containers which will hold water for considerable time in which the female can lay her eggs.

Although the primary purpose of the program is to eradicate the Aedes aegypti mosquito, the presence of other types of mosquitoes will be greatly reduced by the program, Dr. Primer said.

Dr. Primer is the father of Dr. Ben Primer Jr., San Marcos physician.

Soil Conservation District News

With the approach of Fall we again have winter cover crop time. Winter cover crops are dual purpose crops in many cases: Furnishing cover during fall and spring rain storm periods to prevent costly soil erosion; return organic matter and soil nutrients when they are plowed under next spring; and the cost is usually defrayed by light grazing as well as the soil improvement.

No soil improvement is obtained unless a minimum of 3,000 pounds of dry residue is returned to the land the following Spring. Soil nutrients are returned only when a substantial portion of the growing plant is returned to decay and release the tied up nutrients to following crops. Merely planting a soil improving crop will not benefit the land if it is handled as a soil depleting crop.

Legumes such as Hubam clover, Annual yellow sweetclover, Vetch and winterpeas will produce free nitrogen if they are inoculated with the proper inoculant and enough of the plant is returned with the self-produced nitrogen. This is a good way of adding nitrogen to the soil as well as beneficial organic matter. Legumes should also be fertilized, chiefly with phosphate at the rate of 40 pounds per acre. If small grains are included with the legume, nitrogen should be added for the small grains benefit.

Winter cover crops are very important to the nation. They prevent erosion during our usual heavy rainfall periods since they are broadcast or drilled and provide good cover. Streams, Rosary was recited at the funeral home Monday evening.

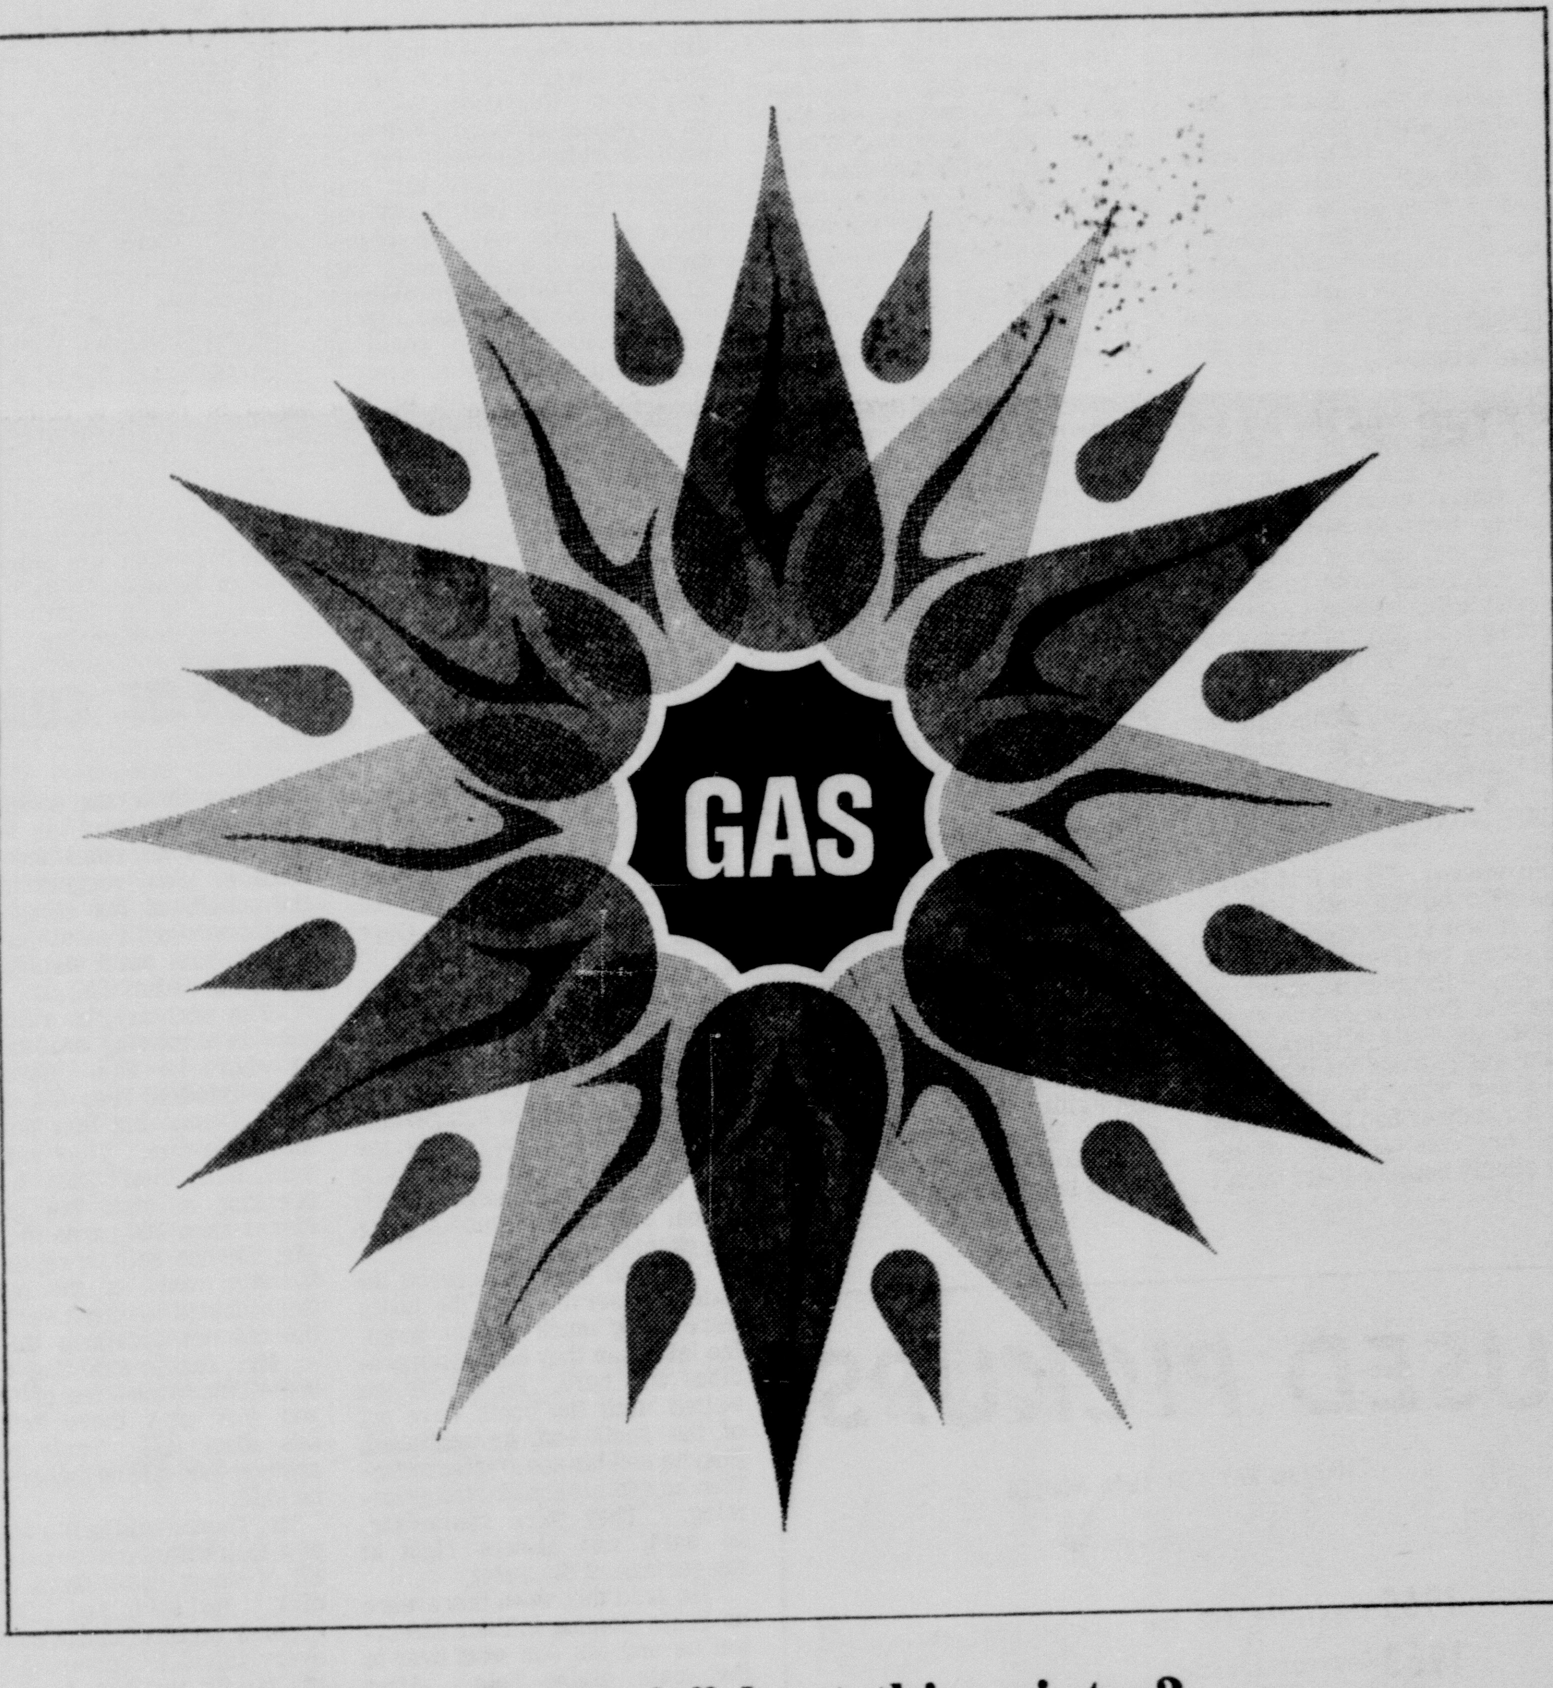
Survivors include his mother, Mrs. Jacoba Rodriguez of San Marcos; five sisters, Mrs. Manuel Aguilar, Miss Mary Ellen Rodriguez, Miss Isabel Rodriguez, Miss Virginia Rodriguez, and Miss Angelita Rodriguez of San Marcos; and three brothers, Guillermo, Jessie, and Johnnie also all of San Marcos.



Q. Want "fresh-air" heat this winter?
A. Only Gas provides it!

NATURAL GAS makes the BIG difference in Central Heating. You can buy all sorts of central heating systems, but they've got to be GAS-fired if you're going to enjoy Fresh Air heat.

GAS heating systems bring in fresh outside air, filter it, warm it and circulate it throughout your home—gently, quietly, automatically and, best of all economically. GAS heat costs less to install, to operate and to maintain.

Yes, if you want Fresh Air Heat this winter, you'd better buy a low-cost GAS system. No down payment . . . up to five years to pay. Ask your heating dealer or see a heating engineer at the Gas Company office.

$100,000 in bonds out

The retirement of $100,000 bonded indebtedness was approved in action by the Board of Directors of the Guadalupe-Blanco River Authority at their monthly meeting held in Victoria on Friday, August 27. This brings the total bond retirement to $150,000 against the $3,750,000 in revenue bonds issued in May, 1963, to purchase the six hydroelectric plants on the Guadalupe River located in Guadalupe and Gonzales Counties. By terms of the bond indenture, only revenues derived from the operation of the hydroelectric plants can be used to repay the debt.

In other business, the Board reviewed monthly operating and financial reports, approved the budget for fiscal year 1966 and agreed to share a quarter of the paving costs for the access road to TP-4 Dam with adjacent landowners. Further investigations of the disposal of log rafts on the Guadalupe River were authorized.

LETTERS to EDITOR

Dear Editor:

This letter is written in reply to the one written in August 25, Citizen by Anthony Clark and Donald Sebesta. This letter is not written for the purpose of stirring up racial bitterness for I have always stood for equal justice for all people regardless of the color of one's skin but to try to give better understanding between the races. Everytime a Negro does not receive what he feels like is his just due he lays it to the color of his skin. Negroes do not seem to realize that white people also suffer disappointments and seeming discriminations constantly.

I will give just two instances that are just as glaring as those they cited. I could give many more.

A certain white man I know went to a Texas college two years. Then he received a wonderful scholarship to a college in California. He attended college there one year then went into the Air Force and was in the Pacific area during World War II. At the end of the war he went back to the California college for one year and received his degree with a major in physical education. But as coaches' pay in schools at that time was so low, he decided to rejoin the Air Force. Part of time in Air Force he had some coaching duties as well as mechanical along with other training.

Now retired from the Air Force in early middle age he has to have some kind of work to support three teenage children. He had hoped to get a position at Gary and move back to the San Marcos area but was notified that he was not qualified. Why is such an exceptional man in early middle age, with a college degree, widely travelled, and always an outstanding church and community worker where ever he has lived considered unqualified? Why? His skin isn't black, but in need of employment he is at present a janitor at a large western college.

In another instance a penniless widow of eighty years has never been able to get Old Age Assistance because she owns a few acres of wooded sandy land, that often has not produced enough income to pay taxes. Knowing that she had to do something, when nearly eighty, she took a small management and bookkeeping job at $100 per month, until she had enough time to qualify for Social Security. By the time she had enough time to qualify for social security the man who had denied her claim for old age assistance was a Social Security representative for her area. Now he is denying her Social Security on the grounds that the work she did was not worth what she was paid. Injustice? Surely. But her skin isn't black. If it were she would have received thousands of dollars by now in old age assistance.

Sincerely,
Mrs. J. H. Anderson

Dear Editor:

Please accept my apology for finding it necessary to use an envelope other than the one you enclosed for my use in mailing my check for another year's subscription to the Hays County Citizen. I had a small problem, you see. I couldn't find it.

I opened the envelope in which you so thoughtfully provided me with the enclosed draft (properly filled in, you'll notice) and a notice that my subscription will be due next month. But, no envelope. Well, I set about doing the necessary, to insure my not missing one single issue of the Citizen and provided myself with an envelope. I hope you don't mind. I really would hate missing an issue.

I hope you and the staff continue your endeavors to keep the public informed about goings on in Hays County. I am especially enjoying Carolyn Chandler's reporting and Charlie Jetty's sputtering. I had thought that Mr. Jetty's association with you good people might straighten him out, but I'm beginning to have doubts. He argues well, but I am afraid, not very convincingly.

Anyway, keep on keeping on --- and have fun doing it.

Sincerely yours,
Billie Doherty Massey

Range War continues over use of lake

In May of this year the Texas Legislature passed what is commonly known as House Bill 69, and what is officially referred to as the Texas Water Safety Act, which contained a number of items important to the citizens of Texas.

Two of its provisions which are of immediate interest to San Marcos are Sections 15 and 19.

Section 15 says: OPERATION IN CIRCULAR COURSE AROUND FISHERMAN OR SWIMMER PROHIBITED. No person shall operate any motorboat in a circular course around any other boat any occupant of which is engaged in fishing or any person swimming. No swimmer or diver shall come within two hundred (200) yards of any sight seeing or excursion boat except for maintenance purposes." On motion of Sen. Richter this section was amended by adding to the last sentence the words: "or unless within an enclosed area."

Section 19 reads: "LOCAL REGULATION. (a) The Governing Body of any incorporated city or town, with respect to public waters within its corporate limits and all lakes owned by it, is hereby authorized by city ordinance to designate certain areas to be bathing, fishing swimming or otherwise restricted areas, and to make such rules and regulations relating to the operation and equipment of boats as it may seem necessary for the public safety, the provisions of which are consistent with the provisions of this Act."

The Act went into effect on September 1. On August 31, Mr. Donald Brod of Aquatic Sports, Inc. learned that a physician from Arkansas, who had called down here inquiring about diving conditions in the lake, had been told that after Sept. 1, it would be illegal to swim or dive in the lake. Mr. Brod learned that divers from San Antonio and Houston had been told the same thing.

Mr. Brod says that he had previously made inquiries with attorneys regarding the constitionality of Section 15 and had been advised that the part relating to the approach to a boat by a swimmer would almost undoubtedly be adjudged unconstitutional. He therefore decided, he said, to test it before he lost any more business because of it and to try to avoid having someone arrested who was ignorant of the law.

On September 1, Mr. Brod entered the lake and swam out to the hole which he had previously requested the City Council to designate as a diving hole. He had with him a brightly colored yellow raft which he used to rest in from time to time and which was visible from. There were other divers in the lake at the time (who did not know about the law) and their calling back and forth to each other was clearly audible from the shore.

Mr. Brod relates that while he was on the lake one of the Aquarena boats passed around him in a circular motion, the first time he had ever seen an Aquarena boat follow that particular path.

After waiting for some time, he relates, he then swam up to the area where the boats are docked and asked the boys working there to advise Mr. Russell that he was in the water within 200 yards of the boats. The boys replied something like "Who's Russell?" and went on sweeping out boats.

In all, Mr. Brod was in the water from 6:00 a.m. to about 10:30 a.m. and nothing whatsoever happened.

The situation was more or less quiet until the Labor Day weekend. Then reports began coming in that boat operators had been seen chasing divers. This reporter interviewed Mr. Gerry Thorpe, an engineer with a Ft. Worth aircraft company. Mr. Thorpe said his family arrived in San Marcos Saturday morning, had begun diving that day and had had no trouble. On Sunday morning, when he and his son reached the point where they enter the lake, some girls on the bank said that just a few minutes previously a boat had chased some boys up the channel (slough).

He and his son entered the water, observed that the boats were going much farther down the lake than they had on his previous trips here. He and his son waited until the boats were out of the south end, he continued, then he and his son started swimming. They were snorkeling, he said and always right at the surface of the water.

After waiting for some time, he relates, he then swam up to the area where the boats are docked and asked the boys working there to advise Mr. Russell that he was in the water within 200-yards of the boats. The boy replied something like 'Who's Russell?" and went on sweeping out boats.

In all, Mr. Brod was in the water from 6 a.m. until about 10:30 a.m. and nothing whatsoever happened.

DREW PEARSON'S

WASHINGTON REPORT

WASHINGTON--Some months ago, a secret Republican strategy conference in Washington decided to give President Johnson everything he wanted to carry on the Viet Nam war.

GOP leaders saw it as a "heads we win; tails he loses" proposition. If the U.S. came out on top, they could point with pride to their support of U.S. policy; if we didn't do well, they could have a field day with "Johnson's war."

This "secret" decision--which has been no secret to LBJ--is one reason the President has been maneuvering so hard to get Republican approval of what he has done on the public Record. This is one reason he has discussed Viet Nam several times with President Eisenhower, and was so pleased to have Eisenhower come out publicly in his support.

He also has been using his persuasion on Senator Everett Dirkensen and other Republican leaders, telling them it would be tragic to let the war become a political issue when American boys are fighting and dying in Viet Nam.

All this also explains his annoyance when prominent Republicans become critical of the conduct of the war; his interest in having a Republican, such as Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, in Viet Nam to blunt that criticism.

Aside from the Republicans, the President also has talked with Vice President Humphrey, Secretary of State Rusk and U.N. Ambassador Goldberg, and asked them to use their influence with liberal leaders to tone down their criticism of our Viet Nam policy.

Despite all the President's efforts, political experts look for the Republicans to use Viet Nam for all it is worth in the 1966 Congressional campaign--and later in 1967-68 if the war lasts that long.

With more men being drafted, with more mothers concerned about their sons being sent overseas, they figure the GOP may be able to make the Viet Nam war just as unpopular as the Korean war was in 1952 when General Eisenhower promised that, if elected, he would go to Korea himself to end it. That promise added to Ike's already great popularity and helped many a Republican to get elected on his coattails. So it's easy to understand how Republican strategists can hope for a repeat public reaction in 1966.

Note: Though the President is trying to keep the Republicans from gaining any political advantage from Viet Nam, all his concern for bipartisan support is not political. He believes deeply not only that most Americans agree that politics should stop at the water's edge, but that in fact the U.S. commitment in Viet Nam is bi-partisan, and also that it would be fatal to hope for eventual peace if the communists ever get the idea that the U.S. actually is seriously split over the war.

--PENSION FUND PROBES--

Senator John McClellan of Arkansas is planning to re-open his old investigation of labor-union pension funds. At the same time, Senator Phil Hart of Michigan has ordered a new investigation of company pension funds.

Hart has assigned one full-time investigator to check into complaint that some companies, after mergers, have abolished employee pensions altogether.

What most employees don't realize is that, legally, pension money generally belongs to the company until the employees retire. It can be used any way the company wishes while the money is accumulating. Hart has evidence that some companies have mishandled the money, including one southern supermarket chain.

--DEWEY TO COURT--

Tom Dewey of New York has tried hard and often to get a federal job but never was able to make it on his own. He was turned down for the presidential nomination by his own party in 1940, and beaten as the GOP nominee by FDR in 1944 and again by Harry Truman in 1948. Then he retired from office-chasing to practice law in New York.

Now--under a Democratic administration--he may finally make it. There's talk that when the next Republican vacancy occurs on the Supreme Court, Dewey may get the appointment.

Another possible appointment, to the next Democratic vacancy, is that of Senator Wayne Morse of Oregon, one-time Dean of the University of Oregon Law School and one of the most noted legal minds in the Senate.

Morse, of course, has been one of the President's severest critics in the Senate on foreign policy, and his appointment to the court would remove a very sharp thorn from LBJ's hide.

These suggestions do not now have Johnson's approval--but his friends are talking them up.

The next two vacancies, incidentally, are expected from the resignations this year or next of Justices John Harlan and Hugo Black, Black because of age and Harlan because of the illness of his wife.

--WHAT PRICE LIPSTICK?--

The other day Congresswoman Martha Griffiths of Michigan asked the Revlon Company about a complaint that it had taken advantage of the excise tax reduction to raise lipstick prices.

Many complaints to companies--and to members of Congress--either get tossed into a wastebasket or are given a form letter reply. But not this one.

A Revlon vice president, no less, got on the telephone to Congresswoman Griffith's office to ask for more details. It turned out the complaint had come from one of her secretaries--and that lipstick wasn't involved at all, but a package of mascara. Revlon had in fact raised the price of mascara from $1.35 to $1.50 but the boost had come last February, before the excise tax cut. So the company was able to quash this threatened storm over women's beauty aids on the floors of Congress

Most of the nation's retailers have passed on the savings from the tax cuts to consumers, according to a survey by the President's economic advisers.

--LOUD TV COMMERCIALS--

The Ted Bates Advertising Agency, one of the advertising firms which produces those loud radio-TV commercials, has flatly refused a FCC request to tune down the volume.

A company spokesman let the FCC know firmly that advertising agencies are not regulated by the FCC and that the Ted Bates Agency will continue to use the most effective attention-getters, including high volume commercials.

--MISSISSIPPI BOWING TO LAW--

Reports to the Justice Department indicate that the registration of Negro voters has been going surprisingly well all over Mississippi, even by the state registrars. This is the reason the Justice Department has sent federal registrars to only four Mississippi counties.

When state registrars do the job themselves, Washington believes it's more economical, more practical, and more constitutional.

Before the Negro voting rights law was passed, only six thousand Negroes were registered in Mississippi during the month prior to August 18. The ten days after August 18, over twelve thousand Negroes were registered--all by state registra

Capitol Comment

By State Senator Walter Richter

AMENDMENT FOUR: One of the easiest amendments to understand among those on the ballot Nov. 2 is Number Four. This is the one which simply authorizes four-year terms (in place of two-year terms) for the governor and other state officials elected in statewide elections.

Most folks, I find, have an instant position--they're FER it or AGIN it. I'm not on fire about it, but I plan to vote for it for the following reasons:

(1) All state government is growing more and more complex, and a feller is barely "broke in" before he has to take time from tending to his vital business to run again.

(2) Voters have rarely turned anyone out after one two-year term anyway.

(3) The cost of making a statewide race is tremendous, and few candidates are wealthy enough to run statewide every two years without having to accept large contributions. This makes it more difficult for them to maintain their independence.

OTHER STATES: Texas would not be the first by whom "the new is tried" in this respect. All but 15 of the 50 states have already seen fit to provide four-year terms for their governors.

In opposition we hear the following:

(1) An official elected for four years might not be so responsive to the people and would be inclined to lose touch with them.

(2) There is no limit placed on the number of terms to which a statewide official may be elected. In 15 of the states having four-year terms for the governor, the governor cannot succeed himself and in four others he is limited to two terms.

(3) Under these conditions, a governor particularly, through his appointive power, could develop great political strength which might certainly be abused.

WE GET LETTERS. . .

American Negro: "You can't make a human being out of an animal."

This clearly is not the answer to our race problem. But it is as close to an answer as the explanation Franklin Roosevelt Lee of San Marcos made when he told me that he works during the good weather, then draws unemployment during the bad.

The Negro in America has in many ways and in many places been mistreated. But the answer for the Negro, and for America, lies between the expressionless Negro who moves in an aura of sadness and with an attitude of servitude, and the be-bop Negro with his demands for his "rights."

The answer is most certainly not continued pampering by law enforcement or judicial officials. No solution can be found in financial aid for those who will neither respect or appreciate it.

I know through experience that some few Negroes have come to demand from law enforcement, from government, much more than they have a right to expect. The number of this few is growing.

Those who would summarily take the case of the Negro versus the police would do well to observe the episode which virtually every Negro disturbance entails. These are cases in which officers go of no choice.

If those who automatically insist on the "rights" of the Negro versus the police (and please note the word automatically) and hence organized democratic society, could hear the vile, unrepeatable utterings which son makes upon mother, daughter upon father, and husband upon wife, if they could observe the insults which are supposed to be the "right" of the Negro to give the police, then they would be some less militant in their war for the Negro and his "rights." They would take pause in their belief that the Negro is ready to demand and force his way into the mainstream of American Society.

I am no racist. I believe in forced integration, because I have seen it work, and admirably, in the military service. But I believe it is incumbent upon each and every Negro to do his utmost to raise his own standard of living, and to insist on the swift and severe punishment of those Negroes who persist in acts of civil disobedience. The Negro cannot for one instant afford to justify or condone lawlessness in their race, and while they condone and justify this lawlessness, they are not fulfilling their share of responsibility.

The American people must decide in all matters on a course which puts a higher value on responsibility that it does on "right." And, in the case of the American Negro and indeed in all cases, many attitudes must soon change.

Masons to meet in Blanco

A Workshop has been scheduled for officers and members of Masonic Lodges in this area at 7:30 p.m., September 20. The meeting will be held at the Masonic Temple in Blanco. Officers of Kyle, San Marcos, Dripping Springs, Johnson City, Buda and Blanco are especially invited.

The Workshop is part of a statewide, semi-annual program authorized by the Grand Master of Masons in Texas, J. Carroll Hinsley of Austin. The program is conducted for nearly 1,000 Texas Masonic Lodges with a membership of 250,000 men. The Masonic Order is the state's largest fraternal organization.

The purpose of the Workshop is to enable Masons to study common problems of Masonic Lodges and their operations. The Workshop will be conducted by Victor L. Manning of Austin, who is with the Internal Revenue Service and is chairman of Masonic Workshop Area C-7.

Grand Master Hinsley stressed the importance of attendance by all Lodge officers and emphasized that other Masons are welcome.

Alexander attends agronomy school in Cuero

Mr. Bobby Joe Alexander of Alexander Farm Service attended the Smith-Douglass Basic Agronomy School at Cuero, Texas on September 2, 1965.

The Smith-Douglass Agronomy School objective is to help prepare the dealer to aid in counseling and advising his customers in the correct use and application of fertilizers as is practical in the area, thereby enabling the farmer to cope with average farm situations.

Areas of instruction were soil testing, nitrogen, phosphorous, trace elements, fertilizer placement, and business management.

The economy of this area is very dependent upon agriculture and with the proper and adequate use of fertilizer, the increased gross income is similar to the community obtaining a new industry.

Damage control taught Reserves by Norris

CDR William E. Norris, Jr., of San Marcos, a World War II combat Naval Officer, has been engaged to instruct a course in Damage Control for the 1965-66 Austin Naval Reserve Officers School, according to LCDR Thomas M. Lasseter, commanding officer of the unit.

Chairman of the Department of Biology and Dean of the School of Science at Southwest Texas State College, CDR Norris will draw on his experience as commanding officer of a patrol craft which participated in the Solomon Island and other major campaigns in the Pacific during WW II. These engagements sharpened his practical knowledge of ship security. Annual training duty with the U.S. Navy and special correspondence courses have kept him abreast of the latest developments in the subject.

The course is open to Naval Reserve officers through the rank of lieutenant, and officers of other services may also participate. Enrollment will be open every Thursday in September beginning at 7:45 p.m. at the U.S. Naval Reserve Training Center, 1110 Barton Springs Road, Austin, Texas. Other courses being offered are Meteorology and International Law. Interested persons should inquire at the Training Center or call HI 2-0780 or GR 6-2602 in Austin for further information.

HOUSE PASSES BILL TO AID BUSINESS

Like their fellow Americans throughout the land, Congressmen paused this week to observe Labor Day, then plunged back into their heavy schedule in the final drive toward adjournment. In the House, we are scheduled to consider the foreign aid appropriation bill--always a controversial subject---and the Senate will take up school financing, immigration, and possibly the farm bill recently passed by the House.

Last week we approved a measure to promote the creation of regional centers to place the findings of science and technology into the hands of local businesses and industries. This joint Federal - State program would operate through a State agency designated by the Governor, and institutions like the University of Texas and Texas A&M would have an opportunity to participate.

Because the States will have to work up five-year plans for approval by the Secretary of Commerce, which will take some time, the new program will start somewhat slowly, but it could grow into a highly - developed service particularly beneficial to small business, and it might mean a great deal over the long pull to the communities of our district and State. A number of our engineers and business people had contacted me about supporting the bill, and of course, I was pleased to do it.

MORE DOCTORS NEEDED

The House also passed legislation designed to train more doctors, osteopaths, dentists, and optometrists, who will be badly needed in the years ahead. This was a bill on which our Commerce Committee had worked for some time.

When we conducted hearings on the proposal in June, it soon became apparent that due to the rapid expansion of the population of the United States, the Nation's supply of medical manpower was already seriously short in some areas of the country. Unless a significant increase in the number of graduates of medical schools takes place, the situation will become critical throughout the nation. Because of this urgent need, I voted for the bill both in committee and when it passed the House.

BILL OPPOSED

A few days ago, I appeared before the House Ways and Means Committee in favor of a bill I had introduced at the request of the Texas Employment Commission and similar agencies in other States which administer the unemployment compensation program. My bill would provide for court review of decisions by the Secretary of Labor in denying funds to the States. I feel that our State agencies should have their day in court on such questions.

In addition, I testified against a bill to substitute Federal standards for State unemployment requirements. Based on my experience with the program, I think that matters of eligibility, disqualification, and benefit amounts and duration should be left to State control because working conditions, wage scales and economic patterns vary from one part of the country to another.

Any government program must, of course, be kept up-to-date, and I recognize that improvements can be made at both the Federal and State levels. However, I feel that raising the taxable wage base to $6600, permanently establishing 26 more weeks of benefits, and other provisions of the bill go much too far.

Peace Corps falls on Henny Penny

WHERE'S THE PULLEY BONE?-As one Peace Corps trainee finishes defrocking the foul which she had just dispatched another begins slicing hers into suitable size for cooking. This was one of a number of practical problems which went hand in hand with geography, history, government and Spanish during the training period. Tim Price photo.

Schmeltekopf grandson struck by lightening

Terry Siebert, 19, son of Col. and Mrs. Ray Siebert of Omaha, Neb., was struck by lightning on an Omaha golf course while playing golf with his father on Sunday, Aug. 29. He suffered severe burns and shock, but the only permanent injury was the loss of his left ear drum. His father administered artificial respiration pending the arrival of an ambulance with oxygen equipment. For three days he was in the intensive care ward of the hospital in which he was under treatment.

Young Siebert is the grandson of Mrs. W.C. Schmeltekopf Kyle and the late Mr. Schmeltekopf. His mother is the former Merle Schmeltekopf. He has a sister, Sherry Schmeltekopf, who was in Europe on a vacation trip at the time of the accident.

Siebert was a student the past year at Baylor University. He and his mother plan to come to Kyle the latter part of this week for a visit with grandmother and other relatives, after which he will return to Baylor for the coming session.

Family celebration for Mrs. Guttery's birthday

The James Millers honored Mrs. Truman Guttery on her birthday Sunday night with an outside Bar-B-Q.

Those helping her celebrate the occasion besides the Millers were: Mrs. F.M. McCrary, Mrs. Guttery's mother from San Marcos; John Taylor Guttery and wife, Mary Dee, and children, Susan, Daryl, and Jocelyn; Pete Guttery, Jr. and wife, Barbara, and boys, Paul and Ben, all of Austin; and of course, the Miller girls, Beth and Cherie, who baked the cake with this inscription on it, "Madam Librarian."

A grand time was had for all and the first time for a family get together for quite some time!

Lions entertain Kyle teachers

Twenty-one members of the Kyle school faculty were guests of the Lions Club of Kyle at the weekly luncheon of the club held at the city hall last Thursday night, Sept. 2.

The faculty members were introduced by W.M. Johnson, school superintendent. The club members introduced themselves. In Johnson's talk he stated there are 27 members of this year's faculty.

As a closing feature of the program Adolph Hill was awarded an Honorary State Farmer's Degree from the Future Farmers of America. This is the highest honor awarded by the F.F.A. Hill received a plaque denoting the award. It bore Hill's name and the inscription: "An Award for Outstanding Service and Aiding the F.F.A. members in their projects and Programs." E. D. Steele made the presentation speech.

News briefs

Mrs. Lena Beuershausen of San Antonio is here for a visit in the homes of her daughters, Mrs. Joe Franke and Mrs. Willie Heideman.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Schmeltekopf and son, Walt, were at Prairie Lea the past Sunday to visit Mrs. Schmeltekopf's brother, A.R. Bagley, and family.

THE LATEST WORD

Someone once said "We act as though comfort and luxury were the chief requirements of life, when all we need to make us really happy is something to be enthusiastic about." And the members of the Garden Club were just that at their first meeting this year! There are plans to "create beauty around us," to co-operate with other organizations and individuals to get things done around Kyle. There is no telling what may come of the enthusiasm to beautify our town. Any suggestions?

Gertrude Miller spent a couple of days in Georgetown last week. It seems that her granddaughter, Tracy McKay, has emerged from that baby stage to a little girl and needed some expert help to redecorate her room.

Another little girl, Mary Ellen Schlemmer of Austin, spent a couple of days here with her grandmother, Mrs. Norman Schlemmer.

There are grandfathers, too. Lex Word and Jeff Barton, flew from Austin to San Antonio and came back by train the next day. There wasn't a dull moment on that trip.

Jesse Hauptrief, Jr. and his wife were here from Wichita Falls for the Labor Day Holidays.

It has become traditional for the Lions Club to entertain the school faculty just before the opening of school. This year was no exception. Last Thursday night at their regular dinner meeting, the teachers were guests of the Lions.

On Tuesday morning, Sept. 6, school opened. Things have changed there. There are new fences, a new gym (not complete) work being done on the football field. It looks quite different. But the important thing is what is going on inside. And from the enthusiasm of some of the teachers, I gathered that there is a great deal. Teachers have spent much time in the last week or two decorating rooms in a manner that would motivate an interest in learning. In fact, they had me wanting to join them. The teachers have had a last fling, too, before setting down in the class room to shape the young minds in our community. One morning last week they all went to the home of the Bill Johnsons for coffee and relaxation after a busy morning at the workshop. Another morning the elementary teachers left workshop for a coffee break at the Billy McGee home. It is good to see the teachers having fun together, and if any body needs a coffee break, it is a teacher!

Tommy Allen is back in Kerrville to take up his second year as Maestro.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Brooks spent several days in West Texas with relatives recently and were accompanied home by Miss Patton, Mrs. Brooks' sister.

Wimberly was a most interesting place last Saturday. It was Market Day again, and there were crowds of shoppers as well as vendors. There are such lovely people there and they work together so beautifully to make their market day a success. It is most unique, with just about anything you could think of for sale, from home-made pumpkin nut bread to antiques to second hand clothes. Marjory and Tubby Staples were there from Houston with friends from the lower coast. So word does get around about Wimberly's Market Day. Kathyryn Rogers, Martha Jane Allen, Riso Millhollon and Bobby Word were there. Others from Kyle were the Stones.

Mr. and Mrs. Pete Janssen of El Paso and Don and Lynn were in Kyle Saturday on their way to Florida. Lynn will remain here until Baylor U. opens Sept. 13.

There was word from the Robert Parks from Yellow Stone Park that they are having a great trip with the Conway Harts of Bay Town.

The James Miller home was the scene of a birthday party for Mrs. Pete Guttery Saturday night. All the children, grandchildren and in-laws of the Gutterys' were there. What better birthday could anyone ask for?

Terry Siebert, grandson of Mrs. Willie Schmeltekopf, was playing golf with his father and several others in Omaha, Neb. on Aug. 29 when he was struck down by a bolt of lightning. After his father administered artificial respiration, he was taken to a hospital where he was in intensive care for three days. He had burns on his left leg, right arm and down his back and his hair was singed in spots. I am glad to report that Terry is out of the hospital and is planning to come to Texas in time to see his grandmother before enrolling at Baylor for his second year.

The latest word on Alex Kercheville is that he is getting along fine. He may be getting a little bored and impatient from inertia. Who wouldn't? It is much more fun to mow the lawn than to lie and wait for a healing process.

Kyle Locals

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Zuehl of San Antonio were guests a few days of Mrs. Zuehl's brothers, Pete, Willie and Paul Dressen, and families.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Montague were at Boerne the past Sunday to attend the Kendal County Fair.
